DOMINION UNABLE TO FINANCE ADEQUATELY OWN ARMS FACTORIES

Minister of National Defence Tells Bren Gun Commission Government Ownership of Armament Manufacture Is Ideal System—Declares Faith in Contract Under Investigation

OTTAWA, Oct. 21 (P).—Complete Government ownership of armament factories is the ideal system, but is not financially possible in Canada at present, Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of National Defence, said today at the Royal Commission inquiry into the Bren gun contract.

He had the utmost faith in the contract under investigation, by which the John Inglis Company of Toronto is to supply the Defence Department with 7,000 light machine guns, was for the good of the people of Canada. His confidence was based on judgment of the British War Office, which awarded a complementary contract for 5,000 guns to the same company, and integrity of his own officers in the department.

MINISTER ON STAND

The Minister was on the stand all day and was examined in chief by Hon. J. E. Ralston, Government counsel and a former Defence Minister, and cross-examined by I. F. Heilmuth, of Toronto, counsel for the Maclean Publishing Company, which printed a critical article by Lieut.-Col. George Drew, of Toronto, in Maclean's Magazine, and thereby prompted the inquiry.

TURNED SPY TO CLEAR RECORD

United States Deserter Testifies Against His Alleged Co-Conspirators

NEW YORK, Oct. 21 (AP).—Guenther Guestar Rummich, thirty-two, a United States Army deserter who turned Nazi spy, testifying in court today against those alleged co-conspirators, said he originally entered the German espionage service to clear his army record by turning over foreign spies.

"The thought uppermost in my mind was to clear up this army charge against you," asked Benjamin Matthews, counsel for Erich Glaser, twenty-eight, one of the defendants.

"Yes, sir," Rummich said. "I thought that by giving the Government of the United States information about foreign spies I could clear my record."

REALLY SURPRISED

The witness said he was "genuinely surprised" when he received an answer from a mysterious "Mr. Sanders," reputed directing head of the spy ring, after writing a letter to a German newspaper, the Volkischer Beobachter, offering his services as a spy for the Third Reich.

Rummich said he got about $200 altogether, in a series of six payments, from "Mr. Sanders."

At the close of the session, marking the fifth day of the trial, Judge John C. Knox adjourned court until Monday.

SAILING RACE TO RESUME SUNDAY

Bluenose and Theband Now Have One Race Apiece in North Atlantic Contest

GLOUCESTER, MASS., Oct. 21 (AP).—Competition for the sailing championship of the North Atlantic which has been bogged down by fog, calm weather, protests and disputes is expected to be resumed here on Sunday morning at 7:05 a.m. P.S.T.

The contenders are credited with one victory each in a three-of-five series which began on October 8. Bluenose, a Canadian schooner of the International Fishermen's Trophy spent the day hauled out on a marine railway, where she was taken after her skipper expressed fears she had been damaged in contact with a submerged obstruction in the harbor. Only a slight splintering of the shoe of her keel was revealed. Captain Angus Walters took advantage of the drydocking to have Bluenose's underbody repainted.

Silk Stockings Are Used as Missiles in Burgos Bombing

PENDAYE, France (at the Spanish frontier), Oct. 21 (P).—Airplane "bombing" of Burgos, Spanish insurgent capital, with silk stockings and other articles of clothing was described today in advices from across the border. Tons of stockings, shirts and other pieces of apparel were dropped by Government planes in an effort to emphasize that textiles were scarce in Franco territory.

Pilots in Trouble in The North

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Oct. 21 (P).—One pilot was missing and another, pilot and three passengers were stranded tonight in the stormy Rainy Pass country northwest of here in the McKinley mountain range.

Glenn Day, proprietor of the Day Navigation Co., river boat outfit on the Yukon River, was last seen flying alone in poor weather Monday into Rainy Pass.

Two small privately owned planes carried food and gasoline today to the stranded party of Pilot Ray Peterson, who was forced to land Wednesday after bucking a sixty-mile headwind and running out of gasoline.

SUPREME AIR ARM DESIRED

British Ministry Announces New Scheme to Step Up Plane Production

LONDON, Oct. 21 (P).—A new scheme to step up production of war planes and hasten the day when Great Britain will have an air force equal to any in Europe was announced tonight by the Air Ministry.

The announcement followed two speeches in Wales by War Secretary Leslie Hore-Belisha, in which he dealt with national defence.

At Cardiff, the War Secretary told members of the Glamorgan Auxiliary Aviation Association war-time methods must be employed if the British rearmament programme is to be effectively broadened and speeded to meet challenging conditions.

In opening a new training centre for the territorial army at Merthyrtydfel, Mr. Hore-Belisha spoke of the reshaping of the infantry units. The Air Ministry stated it had Continued on Page 11, Column 6

Say Britain Will Double Rearmament

PARIS, Oct. 21 (P).—A Havas News Agency dispatch from London said it was learned tonight the British Government will announce it is doubling its vast five-year rearmament programme announced in February, 1937, and that £3,000,000,000 ($15,000,000,000) will be spent instead of the £1,500,000,000 ($7,500,000,000) originally planned.

Doubling the nation's biggest peace-time rearmament programme will be announced in a White Paper to be published shortly after Parliament convenes, the dispatch said.

There was a belief in responsible, but unofficial, quarters that Great Britain definitely had scrapped proposals to divide the Holy Land, and would continue for some years at least to keep general control in the absence of a final solution to the twenty-three-year-old problem.

Japanese Capture Canton

The above shows Canton, China, photographed from a pagoda on the Northern Wall. The city was one of the principal centres of the Chinese silk industry, and produced cotton goods, porcelain, paper, tea and metal ware. It had a population of nearly a million souls, who fled in face of the Japanese invasion, leaving a scant 50,000 in the city when the invading army entered.

Province Fixes Gasoline Prices Three Cents Less

Government Launches Price-Fixing in Oil Industry By Prescribing Retail Selling Prices in Fifteen Zones—Victoria Gasoline to Be 25 Cents a Gallon by October 26

BRITISH Columbia's major price-fixing experiment was launched at noon yesterday by Premier T. D. Pattullo, who announced a forced cut in the retail price of gasoline sold in the Province of from 3 to 9 cents a gallon to apply in fifteen "zones" on October 26. The cut will apply on standard and ethyl grades, preserving their 2-cent difference.

Vancouver, New Westminster and close-in Lower Mainland centres were placed in the 24-cent zone; Victoria and Island points south of Alberni Canal in the 25-cent zone; the rest of Vancouver Island and Gulf Islands in the 26-cent zone, with some variations. Elsewhere about the province, reductions of 3, 4, 5, 6, and in one case 9 cents a gallon will apply, at the discretion of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council, on recommendations by the Provincial Fuel Control Board.

SWEEPING UP ARAB REBELS

Jerusalem Expects New Peace Era—Belief Division Plan Scrapped

JERUSALEM, Oct. 21 (P).—Reinforced British troops are preparing for a southward march to sweep the countryside free of marauding Arab rebels while this pacified city looks forward to a new era of peace under new government.

Reports persist here that Jewish immigration to Palestine would be greatly curtailed, or even dropped, under a new approach by the United Kingdom Government to the question of establishing peace between Jewish settlers and militant Arabs.

There was a belief in responsible, but unofficial, quarters that Great Britain definitely had scrapped proposals to divide the Holy Land, and would continue for some years at least to keep general control in the absence of a final solution to the twenty-three-year-old problem.

LEAP INTO LAKE TO ESCAPE FIRE

Mother and Two Children Trapped Aboard Cruiser Are Rescued From Water

SEATTLE, Oct. 21 (P).—A mother and her two small children leaped into Lake Union tonight to avoid flames which destroyed an under-termined number of boats, the Edison Marine Vocational School, and Victor Frank Marine Ways, and part of the Pleasure Craft Boat Works plant.

Mrs. M. D. Stewart and her children, Marilyn, five, and Allen, three, were aboard the eighty-foot cruiser Canco when flames from the Edison school leaped to the Canco. Grabbing her children, she leaped overboard. A passing rowboat rescued them.

The fire, of undetermined origin, raged more than an hour before being checked.

AWARDS ROAD CONTRACT

OTTAWA, Oct. 21 (P).—A contract for construction of a road from the Kamloops, B.C., railway siding to the Government magazines was awarded today to Messrs. J. Davidson & Son, Ltd., of Vancouver, by the Department of National Defence announced tonight.

FALL OF CANTON ENDS FIRST PHASE OF JAPAN'S INVASION

Sees Peace Terms As Possibility

LONDON, Oct. 21 (P).—A Reuters (British news agency) dispatch from Chungking, China, quotes former Premier Wang Ching Wei as saying China might accept peace terms from Japan if they did not hamper the nation's existence. Wang, who resigned the Premiership in 1935, is chairman of the central political council of the Kuomintang, or National party.

SECOND ACT HELD READY

Government Nursing New Gasoline Tax Statute in Case of Reprisals

If oil companies operating in British Columbia challenge the basis of the present Provincial gasoline tax, several times declared doubtful in Provincial budgets, the Province will immediately bring a new taxation statute into effect by proclamation, Hon. John Hart declared yesterday.

Advised some years ago that the present act, resting upon third-party collection of the impost, might have loopholes, the Province prepared and passed a new gasoline tax statute, subject to use at any time by proclamation. Mr. Hart explained. In the new statute all loopholes have been plugged, he stated.

PLAIN SPEAKING

"As a matter of fact the oil companies are co-operating with us, and if they don't co-operate, it will be the worse for them. We have the other act, which we can declare by order-in-council at any time, and they won't find any loopholes in that," the Minister of Finance said.

So far as members of the Government were aware, there has been no attempt yet at retaliation for the arbitrary price reduction in the sales price of retail gasoline, announced yesterday after a series of consultations with the fuel oil industry. The new prices will become law on October 26.

SETS NEW MARK FOR SAWING LOG

Washington Logger Wins World's Bucking Championship With His Big Crosscut

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 21 (P).—Paul Seales, giant logger from Longview, Wash., made a seven-foot saw buzz like an electric motor tonight to win a "world's championship" log-bucking contest at the Pacific Northwest Logging Congress here. He sliced through a thirty-two-inch Douglas fir turned log in 2 minutes 8 1/2 seconds to defeat Allan Heyd, of Duncan, B.C., Canadian champion.

Managers of the contest said the mark was a new world record.

In a second contest tonight, Mrs. Esther Forman, thirty-two, wife of a Sandusky, B.C., logger, won the "world's championship" for women by cutting a twenty-one-and-a-half-inch log in seven and one-half minutes.

LATE NEWS BULLETINS

CLAIM CHINESE GIVE UP HANKOW DEFENCE
SHANGHAI, Oct. 22 (P).—Japanese reported today that Chinese troops were withdrawing westward from their positions defending Hankow, using every possible means of conveyance. Defences of the city, which has been the goal of the Central China campaign since the fall of Nanking, December 13 last year, were being abandoned, the reports said.

KING OF RUMANIA TO VISIT LONDON
LONDON, Oct. 22 (P-Havas).—It was officially announced at Buckingham Palace today, King Carol of Rumania has accepted the invitation of the King and Queen to pay his postponed visit to London from Tuesday, November 15, to Friday, November 18.

REPORT SOVIET PURGE IN FAR EAST ARMY
MOSCOW, Oct. 21 (P-Havas).—The Soviet army organ, Red Star, tonight confirmed reports of a large-scale "cleansing" of suspected military and political elements in the Soviet Far Eastern Army Corps, as rumors another purge was underway gained currency here. Confirmation of the army purge came in the wake of speculation concerning whereabouts of Marshal Vasily Blucher, commander of the Russian armies in Eastern Siberia.

AMERICAN PLANT MAY HURT JAPAN'S TRADE
NEW YORK, Oct. 21 (P).—A major blow to Japanese economy, through loss of its United States market for raw silk, was predicted by hosiery manufacturers tonight, following announcement the Celanese Corporation of America will construct a $10,000,000 plant for construction of a new synthetic yarn. It was said the new yarn will be usable in all textile fields.

FRANCE BUILDS 200 PLANES A MONTH
PARIS, Oct. 21 (P-Havas).—France will have 5,000 new airplanes within the next two years, and next Spring will be producing at the rate of 200 a month, Air Minister Guy La Chambre told The Petit Parisien (Independent) in an interview published tonight.

Troops March Into Deserted City Without Firing Shot—Chinese Forces Reported Retreating Along Railway Front—Foreign Powers Guard Interests—Occupation Amazes

CANTON, Oct. 21 (P).—The Japanese conquerors of Canton, birthplace of Chinese nationalism, deployed in force today throughout the city, confident of complete occupation without firing a shot.

The South China metropolis was captured yesterday afternoon after one of the most astounding campaigns of modern warfare—a victory in which a comparatively small but highly mobile and formidably equipped column of thousands of Chinese soldiers.

Pointed by corps of tanks, their machine guns, the Chinese started swinging into the virtually deserted city shortly after noon. Behind the tanks rolled a train of trucks loaded with infantrymen.

REPORT NO DISORDER

There was little or no disorder among the 50,000 civilians who remained in the metropolis to meet the invaders. The Chinese started in passively at the newcomers. The Japanese, with fixed bayonets, stared back and Canton was a fallen city.

As the occupation of Canton proceeded, amazed military observers sought to evaluate the ten-day-old South China invasion, as it related Continued on Page 6, Column 1

CZECH TROOPS GUARD CAPITAL

Heavy Mobilization Reported At Uzhhorod, in Ruthenia—Garrisons Manned

UZHOROD, Czechoslovakia, Oct. 21 (P).—This tense Ruthenian capital, with a large Hungarian population, was the centre tonight of one of the largest concentrations of Czechoslovak troops since the general mobilization last month.

All railways, bridges, railroad crossings and strategic communications centres are guarded by soldiers shouldering rifles with fixed bayonets. Numerous barracks and garrisons are occupied in Uzhhorod and the surrounding country.

In Ruthenia—centre of the territorial dispute between Czechoslovakia and Hungary—seventeen districts, but not Uzhhorod itself, are under martial law.

Trucks, covered wagons and even ox-drawn carts steadily are moving troops into the area. Their ultimate purpose has not been disclosed but, apparently, they were prepared to resist any forcible attempt to wrest Ruthenia from Czechoslovakia.

Czechoslovak sources emphasized the alliance—a purported mutual assistance pact of which France was a signatory—had not been terminated.

Czechoslovakia stated clearly it questioned the usefulness of continuing the agreement with Russia. The Foreign Minister's statement of the swing toward Nazi Germany, and away from Russia.

It was thought that by pleasing Germany with respect to the Russian pact, a promise of support could be obtained from the Czechs in Czechoslovakia's negotiations with Hungary on the minorities question.

CHANGES IN MINISTRY

SYDNEY, Australia, Oct. 21 (P-Reuters).—Three changes in the New South Wales Cabinet have been announced. A Mr. formerly Minister for Labor and Industry, becomes treasurer; H. M. Hawkins, Minister for Social Services, takes over the Labor and Industry portfolio, and A. Richardson, formerly an honorary minister, is appointed Minister for Social Services.

Half a million Hungarians ready at border while territorial dispute is proceeding.

Toronto Wants a Share in Ticket

TORONTO, Oct. 21 (P).—Alderman William Croft, contended tonight that Philip Sims should sell a half interest in his sweepstakes ticket and turn the money over to the Toronto Welfare Department.

The Sims family has been on relief for five or six years. Controller J. D. McNish supported Croft, declaring: "It is frequently charged that the relief recipients are being under-nourished. Surely if this were true the money that was used to buy a sweepstakes ticket should have been used to buy the necessities of life."

CAMPAIGN OPENED

VANCOUVER, Oct. 21 (P).—Vancouver's civic election contest was officially opened today when Peter McAllister, steam engineer, filed aldermanic nomination papers at the city hall. Mr. McAllister was a contender in last year's aldermanic campaign, but was disqualified on a technicality.

Story of Fairbridge Farm School Is Topic Of Principal's Talk

Col. H. T. Logan Addresses Guests, Faculty and Students of Victoria College on Institution for Education of Poor English Children

ESTABLISHMENT of Fairbridge Farm Schools in West Australia and on Vancouver Island, long a consuming ideal of Kingsley Fairbridge, and the important role they play in the lives of many poor English boys and girls was the topic of an address by Col. H. T. Logan, principal of the Duncan institution, in the Victoria High School yesterday. Col. Logan was speaking before the guests, faculty and students of Victoria College at the annual presentation of prizes and scholarships.

Percy H. Elliott, principal of Victoria College, briefly welcomed the guests and distributed the awards to the fortunate students.

Colonel Logan paid high tribute to the ability of Victoria College students. He remarked that as chairman of scholarship committee at the University of British Columbia, he had had the pleasure of seeing many awards go to local men and women. Colonel Logan reminded the students that they were fortunate in having such an excellent faculty at the college.

CONCEIVED IDEA

Conceived by young Fairbridge when he was a boy of fifteen working with his father surveying on the African veldt, the idea to take young people and place them on a farm, where they would be trained in industry, honesty, independence, determination and obedience, gradually grew.

Fairbridge, whose father was a friend of Cecil Rhodes, realized he must have an education if he were to carry out his ideal. It was in the Province of British Columbia that he met Lord Grey, then Governor-General of Canada, who assured him of a scholarship at Oxford if he could pass the entrance examinations. After four attempts he passed the tests and in 1908 became an undergraduate.

RAISED MONEY

He held meetings throughout the country, and in three years had raised $2,000 in addition to interesting a large number of people in his plan. In the year 1912, with his young bride, he took a four-roomed farm house with 150 acres in West Australia, and a short time after had twelve boys sent out from England. Twenty-three came in the course of the following six years, and by 1918 there were thirty-five children on the farm. In 1920 a 2,000-acre farm was in operation, and by 1935 400 boys and girls were at the school, and today comprise 4 per cent of the total population of that state. Trained in agriculture and domestic science, Colonel Logan stated that 99 per cent of the children were successful in later life.

CREATE ISLAND FARM

In 1935 the society's work had expanded to such an extent, Colonel Logan continued, that the farm school at Duncan was founded. Something over 1,000 acres comprise the farm, and 179 boys and girls reside there. "Next year we expect our school population will number 252," the speaker said.

He spoke of the great responsibility in clothing, training and educating the carefully selected children for life. The youngsters responded quickly to their training and learn the inner processes of the two main subjects which are taught them, he said. When they grow up and go out to work, one half of their wages are placed in the bank by the farm school, so that when the boy or girl reaches the age of twenty-one they have a bank account which helps them to get a start in their chosen line of endeavor.

In conclusion, the speaker urged the students to have an ideal dom-

SAYS PATH OF DUTY ROAD TO BETTER DAYS

Dean Elliott Quotes Nelson's Watchword in Trafalgar Day Message Here

STIRRING ADDRESS TO MEN'S CANADIAN CLUB

"Nelson gave a watchword for all the vicissitudes of life, that every man is expected to do his duty first. If that motto is lived out, it will be a clear road to better days," declared Rev. Spencer Elliott, Dean of Columbia, concluding an impressive and scholarly address given at a luncheon meeting of the Men's Canadian Club in the press hotel yesterday on the anniversary of the Battle of Trafalgar.

Dean Elliott drew a comparison between the conflict in Europe in the days of William Pitt and Nelson and the conflict so recently averted by the mediation of Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain. In forceful language he gave a vivid picture of the bloodshed in France following the revolution in 1789, and of the divided sympathies in England.

"Pitt took the moderate view," the speaker declared. "I always feel that the moderate view is almost certain to be right, but I know also that it is never very popular."

Herbert H. Hannan, secretary of the United Farmers of Ontario and president of the Ontario Chamber of Agriculture, said he thought the Western farmer "has a legitimate claim against the industrial East simply because the secondary industries have dominated our national policies."

MANITOBA VIEWPOINT

WINNIPEG, Oct. 21 (C.P.)—Premier John Bracken, of Manitoba, today declared himself in favor of union of the three Prairie Provinces under one Government. He said he had favored such a step for many years.

"I prefer to make no comment at the present time as to the question of secession," the Premier said.

THE RESOLUTION

SASKATOON, Oct. 21 (C.P.)—Decision to consider Western secession seriously was made today by the United Farmers of Canada, Saskatchewan Section, in annual convention here.

The convention adopted a resolution instructing its board of directors to "assimilate and prepare authoritative material on the subject of setting up a Western autonomous state within the British Empire, governed by a single Western Government, elected democratically by the people."

PROVINCE FIXES GASOLINE PRICES

The current price in this city itself is at present 28 cents; dealers here, as elsewhere, being given until Tuesday of next week to clear out their present stocks.

The rest of Vancouver Island and the Gulf Islands were put in the 28-cent zone. Fifteen zones were created by settlement groups throughout the province, the fifteenth being a general classification into which was placed every case of isolated settlement. Shalith, in the Interior, will receive the highest cut, 9 cents.

EFFECTS VARY

The retail sales prices now to be ordered, only tells part of the story. The effect in Victoria and vicinity was set out in detailed lists, showing the cent-per-gallon reduction at each point. Thus at Ganges, the price to be cut by 2 cents, and at Campbell River by 6 cents. Areas adjoining the Alberni Canal will sell 25-cent gasoline south of the canal, and 26-cent gasoline north of it.

Three-cent reductions will apply at Victoria, where the price is now 28 cents and will be 25 cents; Cobble Hill, Esquimalt, Shawnigan Lake and Sidney. Four-cent reductions include Bowser, Cowichan Bay, Duncan, Cowichan Lake and Youbou. Five-cent reductions will operate in Alberni, Chemainus, Combs, Gabriola Island, Hilliers, Ladysmith, Nanaimo, Parksville, Port Alberni, Qualicum and Sprout Lake. In the six-cent class are Campbell River, Comox, Courtenay, Cumberland, Royston, Sandwick and Union Bay.

TO DEFEND

Lower Mainland centres getting the basic rate 24-cent gasoline include Vancouver, North Vancouver, West Vancouver, New Westminster, Port Coquitlam, Port Moody, Aldergrove, Fraser Mills, Ladner, Langley Prairie, White Rock and Surrey. This is the basic retail price to be set for regular gasoline. Outlying centres being allowed transportation and other costs on top of that. All price reductions are figured from the present selling rate at each point.

Elsewhere, the Government announced that no retaliation was expected from the oil companies, but that if it came it would be met as the occasion warranted. Mention was made of the suspended gasoline taxation measure, held in readiness to supplant the existing taxation measure, if that is attacked in the courts. No attack was feared under the Coal and Petroleum Control Act, members of the Ministry declared.

Dr. Couland Is Victoria Medical Society President

Dr. P. A. C. Couland was elected president of the Victoria Medical Society for the year 1938-39, at the annual general meeting of the society, held recently at the Union Club. Other officers chosen were as follows: Dr. W. Allan Fraser, vice-president; Dr. W. H. Moore, honorary secretary, and Dr. C. A. Watson, honorary treasurer.

armaments as a policy has never been abandoned, just postponed," said the Minister. "There has never been any change in policy. There was a temporary policy (for private manufacture) because of financial stringency."

At the end of his evidence-in-chief the Minister obtained permission to refer to statements he made in the House of Commons regarding the contract, some of which had been questioned. He asserted they were correct in every particular and could be examined by the privileges committee of the House.

QUESTION IN HOUSE

He had been asked by J. S. Woodsword, C.C.F. leader, whether Major James E. Hahn, president of the John Inglis Company, had gone to England in 1937 and 1938 as representative of the Canadian Government, and had answered no. Highest authorities had advised him this answer was proper, as according to the rules questions must be answered as they are asked.

(Earlier evidence was to the effect that the execution of Louis XVI and Marie Antoinette, Dean Elliott said: "The people of England hated and detested this horrible thing. That meant a readiness for war. The English people are very much the same from one century to another, not willing to give up peaceful conditions, but, when worked up over things in other nations, ready for wholesale sacrifice when some great menace must be met."

The speaker told of the coming of Napoleon and of his rise to fame because he imposed his will on the nation and brought order out of chaos, precisely as Hitler had done in Germany.

"The test of greatness may lie in how a man behaves in failure, but there is a greater test when a man is in the height of power. That is the test that Napoleon could not pass," the dean continued.

DAY OF DELIVERANCE

Passing in review the Battle of the Nile and the barrier Napoleon found in Nelson's fleet, Dean Elliott told of the deliverance of England from invasion by Nelson's great victory at Trafalgar when Napoleon conceived his project of invading the British Isles. The relief then felt by the people of England, he said, was much the same as that which the people felt last month when they breathed anew in the realization that there was to be no invasion by airplanes, bombs and gases.

"It is so easy to blame our statesmen and everyone else because the Empire isn't developing in the way we would like," the dean continued. "We ought to have got rid of unemployment long ago and to have established peaceful relations with the rest of the world. The best men know it, and have tried to work for it, but we mustn't fall into recriminations when we find that the problem of the moment is of a different order."

TEST OF MAN

"The test of man is not whether he accomplished his ideal, but whether he kept the spirit of it even when through force of circumstances he has had to do something else. I am not fond of the publicists who say how different things would have been if they had been in charge—because they never were in charge, and never would have been."

"They say, 'Now that there is more time for reflection...' But if it had not been for Chamberlain there would not be time for reflection. England was expecting attack. If that had happened, I doubt whether the publicists would have been able to hold their pens between their fingers. I deprecate this tone of superiority, as if they would have done so differently."

"The crisis of the period isn't past. We are in the midst of it. We can't sit back and say 'That's all right,' and leave it to someone else. We can't expect Europe to be at peace if our part in the business is just not to bother, with no sort of notion of any common responsibility."

Commander C. T. Beard moved the vote of thanks to the speaker.

Worry Saps The Nervous System

Worry over business or household duties, sudden shock, the insane quest for pleasure, the foolish attempt to put a week of normal life into twenty-four hours, feverish activity, the demand for sensational literature are all conducive to the aggravation of wear and tear on the nervous system.

If you are tired, listless, nervous, and worried why not give Milburn's Health and Nerve Pills a chance to help put you on your feet again. They are a body building, nerve strengthening tonic containing the essential elements for the nervous system.

The T. Milburn Co., Ltd., Toronto, Ont.

ten by General L. R. LaFleche, deputy minister of National Defence, to the External Affairs Department in October, 1936, asking that the way be paved for Major Hahn to get information for Bren manufacture from the War Office, and describing him as one associated with "a reliable group of associates" in a position to manufacture munitions.

ASSOCIATES UNKNOWN

"Did you know at the time who Hahn's associates were?" Mr. Hellmuth asked.

"No, I did not, and I don't know now," the minister replied.

"You didn't think Hugh Plaxton was one of them?"

"No, I did not."

Mr. Hellmuth asked the witness if he ever had, personally or from any reliable source, any information as to the qualifications of Hahn to manufacture precision steel.

"Not other than I got from my deputy minister and Mr. Plaxton," the minister said.

"No, you did know there were at least half a dozen firms in Canada actively engaged in manufacturing precision steel?" continued Mr. Hellmuth.

"In a general way, yes."

"Have you since ascertained who Major Hahn's associates were?"

"No."

"So you are still in the dark?" asked Mr. Hellmuth.

"We all are," answered the minister.

"I agree with you there, but it is not our fault," said counsel.

"No."

RIGHT TO USE NAME

"Did you know it was not until June, 1937, that this company acquired, through a court order, the right to use the name of the old John Inglis Company?"

Mr. Hellmuth asked if the minister ever authorized any other Canadian industrialist to represent the Canadian Government as he had Major Hahn.

"I do not think so," said the minister. "I gave letters to many industrialists which were referred to them and there was no discrimination, political or otherwise in any letter I gave."

"Do you know of any direct inquiry by the British Government concerning Hahn?" pursued counsel.

"No," Mr. Mackenzie replied.

"You had given him a great certificate?"

"Yes, for our own purposes."

"I don't care what purposes."

"Well I do. It is very material to me."

"And then Major Hahn comes back with this peculiar advantage over all others," said Mr. Hellmuth.

"Why shouldn't he? He got it by his own enterprise," answered the minister.

Anyone else with the same initiative who had come to the minister and afterwards applied the same brains and intelligence could have obtained the same result, Mr. Mackenzie added.

"But you didn't give anyone else a chance?"

"They didn't ask for it."

"You didn't give the National Steel Car Company, or any others, a chance?"

"We helped out the National Steel Car Company considerably in the same way and got them substantial orders."

Mr. Hellmuth quoted from a speech by Prime Minister Mackenzie King in the House of Commons, in which Mr. Mackenzie King said a committee was studying the question of controlling profits on armaments and agreed with the principle that no profits should be made out of war. It was proceeding on the principle of competition.

Mr. Mackenzie said he agreed with this statement absolutely. Competition was desirable where competition was possible and records of the department would show there had been more competition under his administration than ever before.

"That's why I am surprised at this contract for twenty-five years. I am sure that there is no competition here," said Mr. Hellmuth.

"Competition was not possible," said Mr. Mackenzie. "We followed the British practice of selecting a contractor."

"But British practice is to select a contractor after the most careful investigation."

"They selected Major Hahn."

MRS. FRANK HOLMES PASSES SUDDENLY

Mrs. Louise Frances Holmes, wife of Frank Holmes, died suddenly at the family residence, 582 Toronto Street, Thursday afternoon, aged fifty-four years.

Mrs. Holmes was born in Dublin, Ireland, and had been a resident of this city for twenty-five years. She is survived by her husband; one son, Dean Henry Holmes, at home; a sister, Mrs. George Elgin, of 1138 Monterey Avenue, Oak Bay, and a nephew, Richard Little, Victoria, and relatives in Montreal.

Prayers will be said at McCall Bros' Funeral Home tomorrow evening at 8:30 o'clock. The funeral will take place on Monday morning at 9 o'clock from St. Andrew's Cathedral, Rev. Father J. Crothers officiating. Interment will be in Colwood Burial Park.

TEACHERS FORM NEW BODY HERE

Hugh Creelman Selected President of Greater Victoria Association

HUGH W. CREELMAN

Attended by a large number of teachers from the high, elementary and rural schools of the Lower Island, there was held recently in the Central Junior High School a meeting which should be of great importance to the teaching body and to those interested in the cause of education generally.

For some time it had been felt that there was not sufficient cohesion between the various branches of the teaching profession in this southern section of the Island, and as a result of several months' work and planning a constitution was worked out for an organization which, it is felt, will serve to bring together in a co-ordinated body all the teachers of the Lower Island. Thus the teachers will be enabled to study problems which are of vital interest to those actively engaged in teaching and of importance to the cause of education as it affects the public generally.

In order to make way for the new body, the Greater Victoria High School Teachers' Association and the Victoria and District Teachers' Association were dissolved and the new organization, "The Greater Victoria Teachers' Association," was created.

OFFICERS CHOSEN

The officers for the year were selected as follows:

President, Hugh W. Creelman, Esquimalt Elementary School; vice-president, William McMichael, Central Junior High School; treasurer, Miss H. Stewart, Saanich; corresponding secretary, J. McKenzie, Central Junior High School; membership secretary, D. Wallis, Victoria High School.

Within the framework of the new body there will be organized four main groups whose chairmen will sit on the executive of the main body. These groups, with their respective chairmen, are as follows:

OLD FASHIONED

Muddle well in Old Fashioned glass, one-half lump sugar, teaspoon water and dash bitters. Add cubes of ice, half slice orange, stick of pineapple, slice of lemon and maraschino cherry. Fill with B.C.D. 13 Year Old Rye.

RYE COCKTAIL

1 part B.C.D. 13 Year Old Rye Whisky, 1 part Italian Vermouth, dash bitters, dash of gum syrup or a pinch of sugar. Stir, don't shake. Serve with Maraschino Cherry.

RYE HIGHBALL

1 jigger B.C.D. 13 Year Old Rye, 2 cubes of ice, 1 twist lemon peel. Fill glass with ginger ale or soda.

CONTINUANCE OF SERVICE SOUGHT

Hon. N. W. Whitaker Urges Government to Call for Tenders For Mill Bay Ferry

Hon. Norman W. Whitaker, K.C., M.P.P. for Saanich, stated last night that it was his intention to urge upon the Provincial Government the necessity of calling for tenders without delay in order that the Brentwood-Mill Bay ferry service may be continued.

"The announcement of the Minister of Public Works appearing in Friday's Times to the effect that the operators of the Brentwood-Mill Bay ferry have asked to be relieved of their charter because of lack of public support, and that the minister has granted their request, has been brought to my attention," said Mr. Whitaker.

"The ferry has provided a valuable service for many years, not only to the people of the Saanich Peninsula, but also to the people of Victoria and the Island north of the Malahat. Lack of public support of the ferry is no doubt due to the improvements in the Island Highway, but there are times during the Fall and Winter months when fog, snow and ice render travel by motor car over the Malahat not only uncomfortable, but dangerous. During such periods, termination of the ferry services will undoubtedly result in a loss of Up-Island business to Victoria.

"It is inconvenient, moreover, for residents of Saanich and North Saanich who wish to travel Up-Island, to be obliged to motor in Victoria in order to gain the Island Highway," Mr. Whitaker declared.

Skipper of Western Ranger Believes Crew Should Be Comfortable

NEW WESTMINSTER, Oct. 21.—The new "wonder seiner" of British Columbia coast, the Western Ranger skipper, Norman Gunderson, returned today from her maiden voyage and initial season on the West Coast of Vancouver Island, where she reported a satisfactory catch of pilchards.

Launched in July, and incorporating many improvements and luxuries for the crew, the Western Ranger is regarded as the largest and finest seiner in these waters, very different from the low, uncomfortable and ill-smelling craft of years ago. She is eighty feet long, with twenty feet beam, and carries a load of 132 tons of fish. She is powered with a 200-h.p. Diesel engine.

SHOWER BATH
Cabins for the crew of nine are on an upper deck instead of in the hold forward. The skipper's cabin is in the pilot house above the main deck. The ship has an automatic oil kitchen range and water heater, hot and cold running water, a shower for the men, heat for the cabins, comfortable bunks, good lighting, and other conveniences new to the industry.

Captain Gunderson finds that with the crew absent from home months at a time, the new refinements in comfort are well worth the investment, and increase the efficiency of operation. The shower, the only one in the fishing fleet, attracted wide attention.

A huge turntable handles the nets. For pilchards, 350 fathoms of net are released. In September, a number of the big catches were lost due to tearing nets caused by a defect in the gear. The Western Ranger spent three months ranging the deep-sea Japanese current from below Columbia River to Quatsino Sound. Pilchard prices were $7.75 a ton, twenty-five cents less than last year.

AFTER HERRING
Next week the Western Ranger will proceed to Barclay Sound for the herring fishing. A price agreement has not been reached. Last year the price was around $4.50 a ton at the reduction plants.

Captain Gunderson is a native son of the Royal City, and has been in the fishing business all his life. He is now fishing for Nelson Brothers. Members of the crew are New Westminster men. Captain Gunderson is classed as an independent and eventually will entirely own his new seiner vessel.

Comox Will Make

Gulf Next Month

VANCOUVER, Oct. 21.—One of Canada's new war craft, the minesweeper HMCS Comox, will make a trial trip over the Gulf of Georgia early in November. It was learned today. The ship is being constructed at Burrard Drydock Company plant at North Vancouver. Trial will include tests of the four-inch quick-firing gun mounted on the forecastle which will be carried out by a trained gun crew from the training station at Esquimalt.

Calling Tenders for Fishery
Patrol Vessels

VANCOUVER, Oct. 21.—Tenders for two powerful patrol vessels for fishery service on this coast are being called for by the Dominion Department of Fisheries. The ships will cost approximately $90,000 and will be built on this coast.

One of the boats is to be 100 feet long and the other eighty feet. The larger vessel is to be of powerful construction and will be put into service on the west coast of Vancouver Island. The new ship will replace the present fishery patrol steamship Givenchy, which will be scrapped, or disposed of in some other way.

IMMIGRATION

There is some difference of opinion among Canadians concerning the vital question of immigration. Forty years ago there was much ado in business and political circles about the virtues of "a vigorous immigration policy." In the result a vigorous immigration policy was adopted, and between the turn of the century and the beginning of the Great War the number of immigrant arrivals in Canada reached to very nearly three millions. No doubt a great many of these people would have come to Canada in any event. How many came as a result of the activities of the Canadian Immigration Department nobody can tell, and it is idle to inquire. During the Great War the stream of immigrants dwindled to a mere trickle compared with the years immediately preceding. During the decade following the War immigration figures rose considerably, but never approached those of the pre-war period.

When the "depression" began in 1929, and unemployment increased rapidly in Canada, the question of immigration took on a new aspect, and in 1930 the Canadian Government passed an Order-in-Council which prohibited immigrants (other than from the Mother Country, or the Dominions, or the United States) unless they belonged to one of two classes (1) wives and unmarried children under eighteen joining family heads established in Canada, or (2) agriculturists with sufficient money to begin farming in Canada. Moreover, it was decided that all the Canadian Bureaus of Information in the United States should be closed and those in the British Isles reduced in number. Less than one hundred thousand immigrants were admitted into Canada between the years 1931 and 1936, inclusive. More than four hundred thousand had entered the country in a single year, immediately preceding the Great War.

While there are differences of opinion as to immigration at the present time, there are also matters upon which agreement is fairly general. Few will be inclined to doubt that there are certain clearly-defined classes of immigrants that Canada can very well do without: those, for example, who are likely, for economic reasons, to become a public charge, and those who, for political or social reasons, are likely to become a public menace, or at best a public nuisance. To these may be added a third class, namely those who, accustomed to a much lower standard of living in their own country, would, if admitted, be likely to compete unfairly with Canadian workmen.

During the last few weeks suggestions have been made to the effect that certain Czechs who have suffered during the recent disturbances in Central Europe may seek homes in Canada. The source of these reports is not very clear. One thing is tolerably clear, however. Sympathy with the oppressed peoples of Europe should not lead us to attempt any doubtful experiments of this kind. Canada already has a good many settlements of foreigners who are still far from being assimilated.

GERMANY'S ECONOMIC STRENGTH

Those who are in closest touch with the situation, believe Germany's economic position is growing sounder all the time. This is easily understood. The countries in the Danube basin and the Balkans send more than 40 per cent of their total exports to Germany. They are Germany's commercial creditors, often to very large amounts, and, because of this, Germany is able to enforce greater supplies of goods, and, as "Economist" writes in The Contemporary Review, "to change in her favor the terms at which she exchanges her products for raw materials and foodstuffs." That writer is of opinion that if the world demand for commodities should again shrink as a result of renewed depression in the democratic countries, German economic power would increase.

The competition in building up armaments, in which the Balkan States participate, helps Germany economically, for she gets rid of relatively obsolete arms on favorable terms. With her increased strength in Central Europe, Germany can dismiss the idea of any economic breakdown, even under unusual strain. As long as this economic well being is sustained the political complexion of her government may remain unchanged, for in approval or otherwise of their way of being governed, men's judgments are a parcel of their fortunes.

EDUCATIONAL COSTS

Premier T. D. Pattullo, in answering a request that the Provincial Government should assume the entire burden of educational costs, told a delegation that the solution of all problems concerning public services depends, to a very large extent, upon more just treatment being meted out to the Provinces by the Dominion Government. It is the old story, worn threadbare by the present Government of British Columbia. It was the same with "work and wages." This panacea for unemployment was promised in pre-election utterances. When it was found incapable of performance, the Dominion Government was blamed, although Ottawa has been lending millions upon millions of dollars to this Province.

If the Provincial Government took over the entire cost of education there is little doubt that it would take over the entire cost as well. That would be axiomatic, and the educational system would no doubt become a factor in party politics. It is easy to understand the attitude of the municipalities, which are burdened with an ever-growing cost, but so long as the educational system is as at present devised, that cost cannot be escaped, and it will come out of the pockets of the taxpayers, whether it is expended out of Provincial or municipal exchequers. If the Province took over control, as it would if it provided the expenditure, it would promptly levy new taxes to make up the difference between what it now pays for education and what it would have to pay. No help of any sort could be legitimately expected from the Dominion Government for this venture. Education is one of the matters within the authority of Provinces.

It is municipalities that contain the bulk of the taxpayers. They would continue to pay just as heavily an educational tax; under complete Provincial control, as they do now, so the residents of municipalities would be no better off; probably worse off, because municipalities, were they relieved of their share of the educational burden, would promptly launch out in new expenditures. No one supposes, for an instant, that were educational costs lifted from Victoria's budget there would be an immediate reduction of 12 or 15 mills in the tax rate. That eventually exceeds the belief of even the most optimistic taxpayer.

WHAT OF THE GORGE?

The future of the Gorge waterway is one that interests the public as a whole, as can be gathered from the correspondence on the subject. It is a waterway in which the Federal, Provincial and municipal authorities should be concerned to insure that it is made free from pollution. It is the engineers of these authorities who should be expected to prepare a scheme which will make the waterway a greater asset to this and adjacent communities. The authorities have so far shown but a languid interest, despite warnings issued, and from authority, of the conditions that exist. It is a matter in which a joint conference should be held, and some decision reached about the future. No one knows what the cost of the necessary improvements would be, and how that cost would be an essential expenditure would be allocated. Until a plan is prepared by the authorities concerned, the public will remain very much in the dark. What that public wants, however, is action that will restore the popularity of the Gorge and make it in all particulars the asset it should be to the community.

OCCUPATION OF CANTON

On Thursday, Hongkong dispatches of The Associated Press told of the preparations of the Chinese to defend Canton. Reports were quoted indicating the advanced column of the Japanese risked defeat at the hands of numerically superior forces. Yesterday, Canton was occupied without resistance. This city, from which the vast bulk of the population of a million persons has fled, is now in the hands of the Japanese, whose campaign in Southern China is moving with rapidity. It is said that but 50,000 of the inhabitants awaited the arrival of the invaders. This indicates the magnitude of the campaign in China of which the occupation of Canton is only an episode. The Chinese resistance will continue, though the economic life of the country must be badly shaken.

Mr. Norman Rogers, the Federal Minister of Labor, says that the Dominion and the Provinces must work together to solve the unemployment problem. That is exactly what they have been doing for several years without reaching a solution. They have not, as yet, even begun the task of providing work and wages.

The Mayor of New York believes that the American people are weary of slogans. That is doubtful, for handsome cash prizes are always being offered for new ones, and thousands upon thousands of the people of the United States endeavor to win them. There never was such a slogan-ridden people in all history.

Though a hundred crooked paths may conduct to a temporary success, the one plain and straight path of public and private virtue lead to a pure and lasting fame and the blessing of posterity.

—Edwin Everett.

Note and Comment

By Sandham Graves

One way or another, the Province is getting fairly deeply into the price-fixing business now. Long ago, of course, it set the price of hard liquor, beer, light and other wines. At more recent seasons it created machinery which has since set prices for tomatoes, cucumbers, milk, potatoes, carrots, apples, tree-fruit, stone fruits and other fruits and vegetables—in season, of course. Last season this was followed by price-fixing for retail commodities, including, if you will, everything from a crown to an anchor. The price of women's hairdressing was not excepted, though hairdressers were empowered to name their own prices there. On Wednesday, the Province will enter a new field by setting fixed retail prices for gasoline, in fifteen zones from Sooke to Atlin. Having achieved that much for gasoline, a similar courtesy for coal cannot be far removed, and, if coal, why not also cordwood, stove-lengths and kindling? Come to think of it, it would probably be cheaper right now for the Province to switch to the negative side of the picture, and put in one general statute the few remaining articles upon which prices have not, as yet, been fixed. If the practice of a separate bill, or even a separate order-in-council, is followed, to set prices for individual commodities and other articles, we will not be out of here before Christmas; nor for a good many Yuletides to come. It is all right with me, whatever you do about price-fixing; but, to save needless toil and confusion, why not do it all at once, and be done with it?

This argument has the more point when you examine how difficult it is to fix prices, so that they stay fixed that is. The Provincial Fuel Control Board, one of the newest and perhaps most efficient of the general species of marketing boards, has a small staff of perhaps a dozen persons, the whole of whose time is occupied in keeping track of one phase of one industry, just liquid fuel, to say nothing of coal, wood or kindling. In season we have had a potato board, a tomato board and small-fruit boards, and many others with both time and energy devoted to the hairdressers are looking after their own prices; and the Retail Merchants' Association has been made the custodian of the profit-and-loss end of food staples; but, even with that, we are approaching the point where there may be a shortage of people to put on the boards so urgently needed. Could a man, for instance, dealing with the price of vegetables, be fair in the matter of the price of fruits, a direct competitor? You see, doubling up would not work; separate boards would be needed for each department of price-fixing. When you consider that in retail lines alone many thousands of articles are sold, you will begin to appreciate the point of the argument. Good work, when there is no shortage of people to put on the boards so urgently needed, would be needed for each department of price-fixing. J. B. Munro Addresses Real Estate Board on Early Beginnings of City

The romance connected with the colonization of Victoria and vicinity was dealt with in an address given before the Real Estate Board yesterday at its luncheon meeting in Spencer's private dining-room. J. B. Munro, deputy minister of agriculture, stressed the fact that the various streets and other points about Victoria might well be made use of by real estate men in connection with the selling of property.

Mr. Munro pointed to the fact that there was little wonder that the agricultural possibilities of Vancouver Island early attracted attention, as in the various lines of agriculture this Island was just a little better than other parts. The milk production carried a little higher percentage of butter fat when compared with other sections, and in bulb growing the product was ahead of the other competing sections.

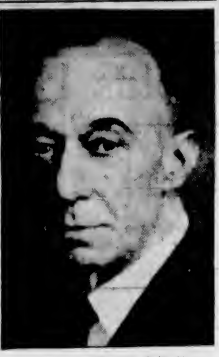

SELECTED FOR FARMING
When James Douglas was sent out in 1862 to examine the land about here for agricultural purposes, he selected Victoria, Mr. Munro stated. In the following year there was a division of a number of farms and a number of men were brought down the coast to assist in the work.

In passing, Mr. Munro wondered where the life of Beacon Hill Park rested, because he believed the registration was never completed. The Tolmie Farm as originally laid out had no access to the water and a right-of-way had to be purchased later.

Thrilling events of the days referred to were mentioned by the speaker, which included the mission handed by J. M. Yale to capture a white man. From among a large band of his fellow tribesmen, Yale shot the guilty Indian.

Mr. Munro was cordially thanked for his interesting address.

Is Granted Leave Of Absence

—Photograph by Cherr.

COLONEL J. H. McMULLIN
COMMISSIONER of the British Columbia Police, was granted six months' leave of absence yesterday by the Provincial Government at his own request. In indifferent health for some time past, Col. McMullin will leave shortly on his furlough. Premier Pattullo, Minister of Police, Commissioner T. W. S. Parsons will be in command of the force during his absence.

John Dunan, Henry Siebenbaum, J. Green, J. Hayward and Percy Cairne. The remains were laid at rest in Colwood Burial Park.

SIMSON—Many friends attended the funeral of Ellen Mitchell Simson, which took place on Friday afternoon from McCall Bros' Funeral Home, 1819 Fern Street, when the casket was borne to the cemetery. The hymns, "Nearer, My God, to Thee" and "Rock of Ages," were sung. "Beautiful Land of Some-where" was also sung as a solo by Mrs. Florence Noel. Interment was made in Royal Oak Burial Park.

WHIFFLER—In the presence of many friends, Mass was celebrated at St. Andrew's Cathedral, Friday morning, by Rev. Father J. Crother, for Charles Whiffler. The remains were laid to rest in Ross Bay Cemetery, with the following as pallbearers: R. Mather, Fred Johnson, H. Buton, A. Larsen, J. Anderson and J. Johnson. S. J. Curry & Son had charge of arrangements.

YONG—There passed away on October 19 at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, Chin Yong, aged fifty-four, a native of Canton, China, and a resident of Victoria for twenty-seven years, his late residence being 642 Herald Street. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Chin Yong, and one brother in Victoria. Funeral service will be held on Sunday in the Thompson Funeral Home at 3 o'clock. Rev. Chow Ling will officiate. Interment will be in the Chinese Cemetery.

TO ADDRESS VETERANS
Captain T. Norman will be the guest speaker at the annual meeting of the Red Chevrons Association of Vancouver Island, to be held at the Britannia Branch, Canadian Legion rooms, at 8 p.m. on October 29. Major P. T. Stern, honorary secretary, said yesterday. Captain Norman was at one time superintendent of the South African Constabulary, before the famous force was disbanded.

VANCOUVER, Oct. 21 (AP)—James Douglas Turnbull, Vancouver customs broker and former Canadian Pacific Railway wharf foreman, died at his home Wednesday. A native of Scotland, he came to Vancouver in 1888.

Community Chest Notes

Somebody wants to know why "Community" Chest? Why not "Common" Chest or "Society" Chest, or "People's" Chest? The word "community" from the Latin "Communitas" and "communis" means "those who are in a state of common possession." That is just what the Community Chest is, the common possession of all Victorians.

The index of any community's well-being is determined by its forces for social betterment. The welfare agencies represented by the Community Chest join with those other great forces—the church, home, and the school, to develop the community character.

It costs $600 a year from taxes to care for delinquency in an institution, and there are grave doubts as to the results. The Community Chest knows that it costs only $10 a year to care for a boy scout, a sea cadet, or young member of the Y.M.C.A. It is much better to prevent, by recreational and guidance programmes than it is to have to provide a cure.

Discovery that a thief defrauded a woman out of a dollar by representing himself as a welfare confederation (Community Chest) canvasser in Vancouver, caused leaders of the drive in that city to issue a warning against giving to unauthorized people. Of course, all Victoria Community Chest canvassers carry their credentials.

It is rather a fine thing to know that here in Victoria no man need ever go hungry—that he can always get something to eat at the Sunshine Inn and no questions asked. The Sunshine Inn can do this fine job through the help the citizens give to the Community Chest.

City and District

Council Meeting—A meeting of the City Council will be held at 8 o'clock on Monday night. The franchise committee will meet at 4 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon. Records of the adjoining municipalities have been invited.

Invited to Meeting—An invitation was received by the Real Estate Board yesterday from the Washington State board, inviting members of the local body to attend the convention to be held in Tacoma, November 19-21.

Street Cars—The Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council suggested by letter to the City Council that no action be taken on the bus franchise question until results of the Street Railwaymen's Association petition are known.

Jewelry Stolen—Miss Alicia Sandy, 1819 Fern Street, reported yesterday that she had lost a brooch set with pearls and two pairs of earrings were stolen, in addition to $8 in cash by a thief who entered her premises on Wednesday night.

Dispensary Costs—In a letter to the City Council, Victor Emery, 1819 Fern Street, suggested that a city dispensary be established at a cost of $525. Mr. Emery stated that the dispensary would result in a large saving in the cost of drugs, medicines and medical supplies to relief cases.

Ask Consideration—Three owners of Quadra Street jitneys have written to the City Council asking for consideration when buses replace street cars here. They urged the council to leave the Quadra Street route free when drawing up a franchise, or to reimburse them for the living that would thus be taken from them.

File Bill Notice—A change of name to the Royal Jubilee Hospital, and powers to set up endowment funds under trusteeship are asked for in a notice of a private bill filed this week with the clerk of the House by the Royal Provincial Jubilee Hospital. The application brings private bills to go before the coming session to three.

Joins London Daily—Peter Stunberg, well known Victoria newspaperman, who made an extensive tour of Europe and Russia during the past summer, has arranged to work for six months on the staff of a large London daily paper, under The Empire Press Union exchange scheme, before returning to Canada.

Eight Fined—Six motorists who pleaded guilty to charges of parking over the hour limit were each fined $250 in the City Police Court yesterday morning. A seventh was fined $10 on a charge of speeding past a school zone. A charge of driving in a manner dangerous to the public and fined $20.

Seek Forum—In a letter to the City Council, the Victoria Forum Association suggested a conference to discuss the requirements of placing a money-by-law before the voters in December. The association believes the city could erect a forum under the loan plan available with approval of the Provincial Government.

Membership Drive—At a luncheon meeting of the board of directors of the Y.M.C.A., held yesterday, E. G. Rowbottom, chairman of the recent membership drive, announced that 446 members had been secured. Approximately 100 persons worked in the campaign. A report of the house committee showed that work on the to the fifteen-month-old Chinese-Japanese war and particularly the months-long encroachment on Hankow, Chinese military capital some 500 miles to the north. Foreign observers always have maintained Japan must take both Canton and Hankow to achieve real victory. With the capture of Canton the task perhaps was half done. Canton not only had been the principal gateway into China for military supplies used against the Japanese, but was the only major port left for other Chinese commerce.

NEW SUPPLY ROADS

The full import of the choking of this artery of supplies was not yet apparent, for against the possibility of losing Canton the Chinese several months ago started a highway from Burma to Yunnan in extreme southwestern China. This highway must be nearly if not yet complete. A railway from Hanoi, French Indo-China, to Yunnan, capital of the province of that name, also was still available.

The Japanese found high Government officials had fled to Yunnan, ninety-two miles north of Canton, in the wake of nearly all the 1,000,000 civilian population. Additional troops poured into Canton today. Thousands more were expected to enter from the East along the Canton-Kowloon Railway where much of the Chinese army had been massed. There were reports from the railway front, about forty miles from the city, that many Chinese were in retreat, their morale shattered.

USED HEAVY FORCE

Estimates of the number of Canton's defenders had ranged between 500,000 and 1,000,000, but they were equipped in most cases with only small arms against modern Japanese tanks, artillery, warplanes and trucks. The Japanese expeditionary force has been estimated at 60,000 men.

Japanese forces came face to face with foreign powers interested in China. British bluejackets were on guard with machine-guns at the barricades of Shameen, Canton's foreign settlement. French and British flags flew from the barricades. Shamen remained quiet with British, United States and French gunboats standing by watchfully.

The Young Mother

Has her health problems

Happy and fortunate is the bride who enters married life in full health and vigor of mind and body. Perhaps the importance of robust health at the time of marriage is sometimes overlooked. But the cares and worries of the household and the tremendous strain of baby's coming demand an abundance of rich, red blood and a healthy, buoyant nervous system. Modern life and present financial stringencies tend to make the life of the woman in the home more difficult and more nerve-racking. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food can be of very great benefit to you both before and after baby's coming. By restoring health of body and mind it will save you from the irritabilities which tend to destroy the happiness of the home. It will restore hope and confidence at a time when ill health threatens you only the dark side of things.

SHOW PREVIEW OF VIMY RIDGE FILM

Naval and Military Officers Enjoy Motion-Picture Story of Pilgrimage to France

A special preview showing of the Canadian pilgrimage to Vimy Ridge was given at the Atlas Theatre last evening before a distinguished gathering. Last night, the film, "A Salute to Valor," which is the official record of the visit belonging to the Canadian Government, provided the audience with a striking comparison of the scene at the time of the Great War and as it is today. From battle scars the film moved swiftly to show the reconstruction of cemeteries, and the beautiful Vimy Ridge Memorial erected by the Canadian people on ground donated by the French. The film also showed the large delegation of Canadians leaving from Montreal and views throughout the Old Land.

The Duke of Windsor, who at the time of the filming two years ago, was King Edward VIII, was seen unveiling the magnificent monument to the Canadian soldiers who gave their lives. Another interesting shot was of a garden party in the grounds of Buckingham Palace.

Invited guests to the preview were Hon. Eric W. Hamber, Lieutenant-Governor, and Mrs. Hamber; Captain V. G. Broder, R.C.N.; naval officers from Esquimaut and their wives; Brigadier J. C. Stewart and officers of Military District No. 11; officers of the 16th Canadian Trench and 5th (B.C.) Coast Brigade; and presidents and secretaries of the local branches of the Canadian Legion.

"Well, and what's the new curate like?"
"Oh, he's lovely, daddy. He shuts his eyes upwards like a hen."

Announcements

One of the Greatest Handicaps to a woman in her business or social life is that most distressing of ailments—superfluous hair—because it inevitably creates a feeling of inferiority; it detracts from her self-confidence, per se; it is a cloud shadowing her whole life. Happily there is a cure—absolute and positive—endorsed by the medical profession all over the world. Call for booklet, Miss Hanman, 503 Sayward Building, Victoria, B.C. Phone G 7642.

The adjourned meeting of the Esquimaut Hall Association will be held Friday evening, November 4, at the residence of Mr. W. Grimes, 622 Admirals Road.

PERSONAL ITEMS and SOCIAL HAPPENINGS

Greater Interest Being Shown in the Theatre

Raymond Guyler Addresses Reading Group at Y.W.C.A.—Says Canada Is "Theatre Conscious"—Suggests Play Festivals Here

Appealing to the members of the Reading Group of the Y.W.C.A. to develop and maintain an interest in the theatre, Mr. Raymond Guyler, newly-appointed director of the Beaux-Arts Society, himself an actor, gave a thoughtful and practical address yesterday afternoon on the subject of "The Contemporary English-Speaking Theatre."

The three centres of the theatre world at the present time were London, New York and Hollywood, Mr. Guyler said. He spoke of the tremendous influence of the moving picture theatre world on the general public and added that its influence upon the legitimate stage was still comparatively small. "For a time, moving pictures had almost put the stage out of business, but in recent years there had been a definite swing towards the 'flesh and blood' theatre once more."

NEW YORK IMPORTANT

New York was the most important theatre centre, he continued, and during the past two years sixteen political plays, five religious, fourteen plays based on social and economic problems, seven on war and peace and ten in verse, had been produced in New York, while London had produced in the same period of time, one religious play, "Murder in the Cathedral," of which Mr. Guyler spoke in highest terms of praise; two in verse and one satire. Four recent very successful plays in London had come from New York. Critics were deploring the fact that there was lack of originality of plot in the London-produced plays. "The theatre should stimulate thought," said Mr. Guyler, and should not be "looked upon merely as entertainment. The theatre is the voice of the people and there should be vision to make the voice heard." The general public today was worrying about the chaotic times and was adopting an escapist point of view, finding refuge in football or baseball matches, the cinema and even the church, he maintained.

It was reassuring that as a result of increased amateur interest, the theatre had come back to the provinces in England.

REPERTORY THEATRE

Many cities now have their own repertory theatres of a very high standard. The speaker referred specifically to the Birmingham Repertory Theatre, under Sir Barry Jackson, the Liverpool Repertory, under William Armstrong; the Embassy Theatre at Hampstead, and Mr. Ashley Duke's Mercury Theatre at Notting Hill Gate, London.

Of Canada, he said "this country is very theatre-conscious, but although there was greater potential activity in this country, less progress had been made than in the United States." It was deplorable, he thought, that Victoria had nothing to offer tourists by way of English theatre productions. He suggested that play festivals during the summer might be of interest.

Mr. Guyler was thanked by Miss Flora Brak, chairman of the Reading Group.

Convener of Annual Party

MRS. HOWARD GOODFELLOW

Convener of the annual tea which will be held by the Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter, I.O.D.E., at the Empress Hotel on November 12, to commemorate the birthday of British Columbia. Mrs. Goodfellow is one of the more recent members to be welcomed into the chapter, and has undertaken the general convener of this annual affair, which is in keeping with the chapter's motto "to keep one hand on the traditions of the past and green the memory of our illustrious dead."

Clubs and Societies

Cheminain Review, W.B.A.

The regular meeting of the Cheminain Review No. 19, W.B.A., was held recently. Owing to left-over business from the last meeting, the social activities planned were cancelled, the entire evening being devoted to business. A report of the clinic held in September by Mrs. LeGallias was given by Mrs. McNichol. The clinic this year was well attended, and Mesdames Garner and Savory kindly opened their homes for the occasion. A communication advising of the visit to British Columbia, in April next, of Mrs. Bina West Miller, supreme president, was received with keen interest. The review received an invitation to participate in the floor work at the provincial convention and rally to be held in Vancouver, at which Mrs. Miller will be the guest of honor. Mrs. Knight reported that junior meetings were being resumed on Friday afternoons in the parish hall. The sick committee has had two very busy months, several members still being in the hospital. In view of the fact that, although the date for the W.B.A. sale has been advertised for several weeks, numerous conflicting events are scheduled for November, and the review voted to postpone their sale to December 8. A report of the fraternal visit from Victoria Review was given, and members expressed appreciation of a most enjoyable event. The president and convener received a hearty vote of thanks. Mrs. Milmore convoked refreshments following the meeting, the table flowers being the gift of Mrs. Peers, who was also thanked by the review and the president for the beautiful flowers supplied for the last meeting.

Cheminain Auxiliary

The Cheminain Hospital Auxiliary held its regular meeting in the Baptist Church rooms, Cheminain, on Thursday afternoon, with Mrs. McNichol presiding. The sewing convener made report of material cut out and finished work handed over to the hospital. The members were asked to let the president know if any could attend the hospital's convention on December 10, in Victoria, and an effort would be made to provide transportation for the day. The president reported that the financial dance, which had twice been postponed, had now been definitely cancelled. In its stead, the usual Christmas Cheer card party will be held. This year an effort is being made to augment the funds sufficiently to divide the proceeds to apply to the various requirements. It was decided to hold this as a whist and auction bridge. In the Recreation Hall on November 16, Mrs. Wylie will convener the refreshments; Mrs. Heppel the card chest; Mrs. Rice, cards; Mrs. Saunders, tables; Mrs. Phillips, seating accommodation; Mrs. McNichol, prizes. All members and friends are asked to make up tables and to communicate names of players to Mrs. Saunders so that table reservations may be made, as an endeavor is being made to have at least forty tables in play. Individual players will assist the convener, if they will telephone their names in advance. The visiting committee for September reported several visits paid, and a number of members indisposed. Mesdames Heppel and Phillips served tea, assisted by the convener, Mrs. Wylie.

Oak Bay W.M.S.

The autumn thanksgiving meeting of the W.M.S. of Oak Bay United Church was held on Thursday afternoon, with a large attendance. Mrs. Hood conducted the devotional period, and Mrs. Ridgway sang two solos appropriate to thanksgiving. The guest speaker was Rev. Norman J. Cress, of Fairview United Church, who gave an interesting talk on the work of home missionaries in the Cariboo district, where he had served for a number of years. Mrs. Bullock moved a hearty vote of thanks to all who had contributed to the programme. Tea was served.

Imperial Veterans' W.A.

The Women's Auxiliary to the Imperial Veterans' Association held a special meeting on Monday to discuss the subject of the change in name. It was agreed by those present that from now on they would be known as the Women's Auxiliary to the British Imperial Comrades' Association. The annual dinner was held in the Nut Shell, Fort Street, and was greatly enjoyed by all members.

Nanaimo Pythian Sisters

Officers and staff of the Vancouver Terminal City Lodge were guests of Nanaimo Pythian Sisters at a banquet and social held following a business session. Delegates from Cumberland, Ladysmith and Cheminain were present. Miss Camille Port, a bride-to-be, was presented with a rose bowl. Mrs. R. Waugh and a capable committee had charge of the social arrangements.

St. Mark's W.A.

St. Mark's W.A. will sponsor a lecture next Wednesday at 8 p.m., when Dean Elliott will speak on "Reminiscences of Childhood Days in Scotland." Guest artists will be Enid Middleton and Mr. P. Mickelburgh. The collection will go towards the funds for alterations to the hall.

Diocesan Mothers' Union

Members of Diocesan Mothers' Union are reminded that the service to be held in connection with the jubilee celebrations of the union will be held in Christ Church Cathedral on Friday, October 28, at 3 p.m., when the preacher will be Dean Elliott.

Rebekah Lodge

Colfax Rebekah Lodge, No. 1, will hold its meeting in the I.O.O.F. Hall on Tuesday night, at 7:30 o'clock. Visiting members will be welcome. Members are asked to make note that a rummage sale will be held on November 9.

FRANCE HUNTS SPIES

PARIS, Oct. 21 (AP)—A French police drive against a spy ring allegedly serving Italy has brought the arrest of Adrian Grosso, Italian consular agent at Montiers. Officials said the inspector, who was decorated for war service, had spent almost thirty years in the police department.

Masonic Ball Is Held in Saanich

Nearly 500 guests attended the annual ball given by Mount Newton Lodge No. 89, A.F. & A.M., last evening in the Saanichton Agricultural Hall. The affair was pronounced most successful from every point of view.

The hall looked particularly gay with multi-colored streamers, forming a ceiling canopy, and from the orchestra platform and balconies were suspended hanging baskets filled with flowers and greenery.

Supper was served in the adjoining room, the ladies of "Moose" Chapter taking charge of the catering arrangements.

Mr. Arthur Lock headed the dance committee, and was assisted by officers of the lodge.

P.T.A. Activities

OAKLAND

The Oakland Association met in the school yesterday afternoon, when Miss Hodge, school dental nurse, the guest speaker, gave an interesting talk on dental hygiene and diet as it affects the teeth. Nancy Humphreys and Frances Rowbottom, pupils of the school, sang solos; and pupils of Miss Sampson's and Miss Schroeder's classes were heard in vocal choruses. The members voted to join the Parent-Teacher Federation of British Columbia. The Oakland Association will sponsor a bonfire at Spencer Park on Halloween.

CEDAR HILL

The monthly meeting of the Cedar Hill P.T.A. will be held at the school on Wednesday, at 8 p.m. There will be a musical programme and refreshments. Addresses will be given by Mr. P. F. George, chairman of the Victoria School Board, and also by Mr. Martin Dawson, school trustee of Saanich.

JAMES BAY

Members of the James Bay P.T.A. arranged an interesting afternoon programme yesterday, when they invited parents and friends of the school children of the district to a demonstration tea in South Park School. Miss Drury, of David Spencer, Ltd., demonstrated the making of artificial flowers, using crepe paper and, in addition to realistic roses, carnations and peonies, she also made attractive candy baskets, using small waxed paper cups as the base round which she arranged pink paper petals to form a rose. The result was very pretty, and her explanatory remarks were of great interest to the spectators. Tea was served by the P.T.A. members at small tables decorated in the Halloween motif.

Mrs. Day, the president, received the visitors. An opportunity was afforded the visitors of seeing the school library, to which collection of books 125 new volumes were recently added, the gift of the school board. Donations of magazines have been received recently, and the popular science publications are in great demand among the children.

Miss Sargent and some of the pupils were there yesterday to show the visitors around. Special tables devoted to collections of handicrafts, girls' activities, health, sports and scientific subjects.

CHEMINAIN

A successful telephone bridge and whist party sponsored by the Cheminain association in aid of the school piano fund, added approximately $50 to the fund. The general convener was Mesdames Eberts and C. Vater and Miss I. M. Vye, and the hostesses were Mrs. E. Koch, assisted by Mrs. Elliott; Mrs. Moiravain, assisted by Mrs. Oliver; Mrs. Dabinette, assisted by Mrs. Saunders, Mrs. Radcliffe and Mrs. Rae; Mrs. R. Wilson, assisted by Mrs. G. Neale; Mrs. Vater, assisted by Mrs. Larman and Miss Vye; Mrs. A. Proteau, assisted by Mesdames Moffat and Ridgeway. Thirteen tables of contract bridge and twenty-four tables of whist were in play. The prize winners were: Bridge, Mrs. P. Elliott; Mrs. Battreall, Mr. C. McNichol and Mr. J. Lapley; whist, Mrs. P. Erickson, Mrs. G. Westwood, Mr. Maxwell and Mr. T. Enall. Several donations were sent in by non-players.

Weddings

BALE-CHAPMAN

The marriage took place at Grace Cathedral, San Francisco, on October 1 of Charlotte Maybry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carroll Chapman, San Francisco, and Mr. Lionel Desmond Bale, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Bale, Sladocoma Avenue, Victoria.

The bride wore a gown of white satin and a lovely rose-point lace veil, a family heirloom belonging to her aunt. Her bouquet was lily of the valley and roses. The cathedral had been beautifully decorated for the occasion with white chrysanthemums and white candles.

After the service, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where a buffet supper was served.

The honeymoon is being spent in Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. Bale will live in San Francisco until the beginning of next year.

LONG-NORMAN

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Saturday at 8 p.m. at the home of Rev. E. M. Cook, Cheminain, when Violeta Irene Eleaner, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Norman, Camp Six, Youbou, was united in marriage to Mr. James Percy Long, son of Mr. and Mrs.

Rare Antiques Shown At Y.M.C.A. Auxiliary Tea Held Yesterday

Unique Little Art Collection Featured at Enjoyable And Well-Patronized Affair at Home of Mrs. C. S. Henley, 1301 Rockland Avenue

A REMARKABLE little collection of antique china, old lace, ancient silver, fifteenth century books and other interesting objects that just hinted at the store of art treasures scattered through the homes of Victoria was the unique attraction that helped to draw a throng of patrons to the annual Autumn tea held by the Y.M.C.A. Ladies' Auxiliary at the home of Mrs. C. S. Henley, 1301 Rockland Avenue, yesterday afternoon. The affair netted $190 for a fund which is used to buy linen and other things needed for the furnishing of the Y.M.C.A.

The affair opened at 3:30 o'clock. Guests as they arrived, were welcomed by Mrs. Henley and the auxiliary president, Mrs. S. J. Willis, who stood beside a magnificent bowl of copper-colored oak leaves. All through the house out-door chrysanthemums in rich colorings were used for decoration. At the tea table, which held a central bowl of American Beauty roses and maidenhair fern and ivory candles in tall Sheffield candlesticks, there presided in turn, two at a time, Mrs. G. M. Weir, Mrs. Reed Paige Clark, Mrs. Peter Bell, Mrs. J. S. Plaskett, Mrs. H. L. Campbell and Miss Agnew, and other members gave very efficient assistance in serving.

THE COLLECTION
Rarely has such a fine little art collection been shown locally in such small space. The assembling and arrangement of the objects showed fine collection. Typewritten labels were attached to each article, and although there was great diversity, a general grouping brought objects of similar character or date together.

A black velvet panel on one wall was used as a background for a collection of old lace, including some exquisitely fine antique lace sleeve cuffs in Brussels and rose-point, some Venetian and Cyprus hand-made lace and a lady's cap and handkerchief as worn in the mid-Victorian days.

In a glass case was a set of Japanese dolls as used in Japan on March 3 every year in connection with the celebration of "The Girls' Festival." In another glass case were several articles from the catancoms, including a lamp 2000 years old, a miniature Hermes head taken from the site of the Temple of Fortuna Virginia near the Roman Forum, a piece of Rameses (II) winding-sheet and old candle-snuffers from Bath.

Still another case had antique jewelry, antique earrings of gold with fringe, tortoiseshell earrings, brooch and pendants, a two-centuries-old pearl brooch strung on gut, a golden topaz pendant more than 100 years old, and diamond and amethyst earrings 150 years old. Beside this case stood another containing two vialnettes, plum-shaped, from an original set of thirteen; the Duke of Wellington's spyglass; an Iona stone cross from the Island of Iona in the Hebrides; two or three Battersea spandrels; some fifteenth century Spanish filligree, and a few lovely bits of old Italian mosaic.

PRESENTATION DRESS
Much interest centred in the beautiful dress of white satin worn

by a lady for her presentation to Queen Victoria. The gown had fine hand-made lace Berthe and panel, and train of Garter blue velvet, which, for purposes of variation when the sister was presented at court at a later date, had an alternative of violet purple.

Among the books was a 1625 Bible. Printed by Bonham Norton & John Bill, this many visitors said, should be in the British Museum. Folded between the leaves, there was it was placed by some long-dead reader, was a musk blossom, and marginal notes in faded handwriting added much to the interest. Another interesting volume was a copy of the Church Book of Bunyan, being the facsimile of minutes of the Bedford meetings of which Bunyan was elder and pastor after he had labored thirty-two years in the ministry. Many of the notes were in Bunyan's own writing.

Reproductions of ancient salt cellars and other articles of table use found in the "Treasure of Treasures," relics of the Roman occupation of Britain; three pieces of English glassware brought round the Horn by the MacKenzie family and used at the factor's house at Craigflower; a Queen Charlotte Island black slate pipe, carved with frogs; a Thibetan carved ivory necklace, with hollow beads holding dice; twin spoons, carved from a single piece of Norway pine, and traditionally presented by Norwegian girls to their fiancés; an ivory facsimile of the Taj Mahal; some beautiful Staffordshire porcelain; a two-spouted teapot; two exquisite Dresden figures, one of a cavalier, the other of a lady in white and gold; a sampler or two; mother of pearl snuff and calling card boxes; a Daguerrotype; candlesticks made from wood taken from Nelson's flagship Victory; and a quantity of old hand-loomed linen dating back as far as 1796 were other things in the collection.

A "surprise" chair was an innocent-looking occasional chair which was in reality a relic of the old cock-fighting days, being a judge's chair, with small drawers for pencil, notebook, spurs, etc., concealed in the upholstered back.

Mrs. R. W. Mayhew, Mrs. L. A. Gane, Mrs. Edwin Tomlin, Mrs. Herbert Pendray and Mrs. J. H. Flegler were in charge of the art display, several wearing century-old dresses which were in themselves interesting antiques.

If a man is bettered his condition is improved; if he is "beasted" he is really "worsted."

I.O.D.E. Activities

Arbutus Chapter
A most successful afternoon tea was held in the Parish Hall by the members of Arbutus Chapter, Chemainus, on Thursday afternoon, the hall being lovely with autumn leaves, daisies and yellow chrysanthemums. The decorations were done by Mesdames Lomas and Sandilands. Mrs. E. Dumont convoked the refreshments, assisted by Mesdames McBride and McEwan, and Miss E. Clements. The home-making stall was in charge of Mrs. Alexander and Mrs. Milligan. Mrs. Newton had charge of the kitchen, assisted by Miss Thompson. Cut flowers were sold by Mrs. Cryer. Mrs. R. McBride had an apple-guessing competition, which was won by Mrs. B. Hart, who guessed the number in the box. The proceeds will be used for general funds.

Sir M. B. Begbie Chapter
For pre-natal care the sum of $25 was voted by the Sir Matthew Begbie Chapter at the monthly meeting held yesterday afternoon at headquarters. The sum of $6 was donated to child welfare, and $25 to the Solarium for child welfare. Mrs. Flack will convene the bridge to be held on Thursday, November 3, and will be assisted by Mrs. F. Cunningham and Mrs. Draper. Two new members, Mrs. MacAtkell and Mrs. J. Tyrrell, were welcomed into the chapter.

Y.P.S. News

DOUGLAS STREET
The Douglas Street society continued its regular Fall meetings Tuesday evening when Miss W. Gardiner, from the Oriental Home, was the guest speaker. The service opened with the singing of hymns, after which Henry Robinson led in prayer. The group was favored with a vocal trio by Margaret and Helen McKinnon and Laura Tyson, this being followed by the reading of the Scripture by Alice Russell. Frances Hurlston, in the chair, then introduced the speaker, who gave a helpful and interesting talk. The hope was voiced that Miss Gardiner would soon pay the group another visit. Next week's speaker will be Mr. W. Garner.

Y.W.C.A. Notes

VERSATILE CLUB
At the annual meeting of the Versatiles at the Y.W.C.A. on Thursday evening the following officers were elected for the coming season: President, Miss Irene Davis; vice-president, Miss Mabel McCartney; secretary, Miss Amy Kirchin; treasurer, Miss Doris Kishner; corresponding secretary, Miss Winnie Kirchin. The conveners are Miss Lois Scott, Miss Bee Dykes, Miss Mary Michael and Miss Nora Bombardier.

The meeting opened with a lively sing-song led by Miss Dorothy Beech, girls' work secretary, and following the election of officers an interesting talk was given on Japan by Miss Helen Kirkwood, the general secretary, who visited that country last summer.

HALLOWEEN PARTY
All members of the various clubs of the senior department are looking forward to the Halloween party, to be held at the Y.W.C.A. on Thursday. This is an annual event and will be a fancy dress party, though costumes are not compulsory. An interesting programme is being arranged, and all girls of the senior department will be welcome. The members of the Y.Owen's Club will hold a candy sale, and refreshments will be sold for a small charge, the proceeds of which will go towards the Spokane fund.

On Friday evening the members of the Junior Hi-Y will be hostesses to the Y.T.A.'s at a Halloween party. Each Junior Hi-Y girl is to bring a friend.

On Tuesday afternoon the girls of the Equilmait Hi-Y will hold the election of officers and make plans for their winter programme. All girls attending this school are welcome to join.

Dinner at Government House

Hu Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. E. W. Hamer were hosts at a dinner party last evening at Government House in honor of Rear-Admiral Percy W. Nelles, R.C.N., and Mrs. Nelles, who are here from Ottawa. Covers were laid for twenty-eight. During the morning, Rear-Admiral Nelles, accompanied by Lieut.-Commander H. Kingsley, R.C.N., paid an official call at Government House. His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor returning the call later at the Dockyard. Mr. A. M. D. Fairbairn accompanied the Lieutenant-Governor.

Staying at Deane's
Deaconess Robinson is in town for a few days and is staying at the Deane's until Monday. She is on holiday from the Cariboo, where she has been working during the summer, being in charge of the large mission parish of Williams Lake. She hopes to return to the Upper Country for the winter months.

Revisiting Her
Miss Isabel Leeming has returned for another of her periodical visits from the Old Land, and is staying with her sister, Mrs. Phil Austin, Pakenham Street. On her way West, she stopped off in Toronto for a time to visit her niece, Mrs. K. Salmon, who is well remembered here as Miss Hope Leeming.

Back From England
Mrs. Winona Eberts returned on Thursday from London, where she has been living for the past eight years. She was met in Vancouver by her daughter, Miss Audrey Eberts, and they have now taken up residence at the Sussex Apartment Hotel.

Farwell Party
Complimenting Mrs. B. H. Schwegers, who is in Vancouver en route to her new home in Nelson, Mrs. Alvin L. Mickler entertained at tea on Monday in her honor. Pale pink chrysanthemums reflected the glow of matching tapers on the gracefully appointed tea table.

Leaves for Spokane
Mrs. W. Robinson Pillar, Hampshire Road, left yesterday afternoon for Spokane to attend the funeral of her son-in-law, Mr. Sidney L. Johnston, who was killed in an automobile accident on Wednesday.

Wedding Anniversary
Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Barker, Old West Road, entertained at their home on Thursday evening, when they celebrated their wedding anniversary. In a beautiful setting of autumn flowers and tinted foliage, supper was served and covers laid for thirty guests. Those assisting the hosts were Mrs. C. Hayward, Mrs. A. Allison and Mrs. Forrest. On behalf of those present, Mr. Harold Thompson presented Mr. and Mrs. Barker with a beautiful stander lamp, and other smaller gifts were also received. A corage bouquet of carnations and roses and a boutonniere were also presented to the host and hostess by Mrs. Hayward. Games and music were enjoyed throughout the evening. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. H. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. G. Publow, Mr. and Mrs. W. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. F. Bolton, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest, Mr. and Mrs. Dye, Mr. and Mrs. Hicks, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Barker, Mrs. Doyle, Mrs. Hawthorne, Mrs. Hayward, Mrs. A. Allison, Mrs. Gates, Miss Myrtle and Joy Doyle, Elsie Granberg, Beverly Barker, and Messrs. Wilfred Barker, Frank Beckett, Donald Hayward and Eric Gates.

Miscellaneous Shower
Mrs. W. Prevost and Mrs. B. Richardson were hostesses at a miscellaneous shower on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. H. H. Clarke, 1008 Street. Mrs. D. Burns, of Miss Flora Clarke, a bride-to-be, The gifts were concealed in a basket decorated to represent a witch. The Halloween motif was used effectively in the decoration of the rooms and the supper table was arranged with a large pumpkin, maple leaves and green candles. Games and music added to the evening's enjoyment. The guests were Mesdames F. D. Burns, B. E. Lefevre, A. Coit, T. E. Hollins, R. E. Burns, F. W. Buckle, F. Dunderdale, R. Graves, J. Wright, J. Lambert, J. D. Burns, J. Stewart, F. Green and Misses Ina Tait, Phyllis Cole, Estelle Clarke, Betty Richardson, Amy Olsen, Maude Tait and Jean Tait.

Had Surprise Shower
Miss Mildred Beckett, a bride-to-be of this month, was honored last evening when the Misses Audrey Marshall, Patricia Phipps and Lily Beckett arranged a surprise shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Beckett, Sayward Avenue. A corage bouquet of pink carnations was given to the bride-to-be, who then found many useful gifts for her new kitchen in a cleverly made miniature replica of the Blue Line taxi office. Guessing contests were much enjoyed, with prizes being awarded the lucky winners. A buffet supper was served later. The invited guests were: Mrs. J. Beckett, Mrs. J. Barwick, Mrs. C. Quest, Misses Muriel Oxendale, Dorothy Simpson, Nancy Martin, Winnie Oxendale, Joan Henderson, Mildred Beckett, Una Wakelin, Doreen Mills and Margaret Marshall.

Bridge Club Hostess
Miss Marjorie Scarlett, Dallas Road, entertained the members of her bridge club recently. The prize winner was Miss Alice Dawson. Supper was served during the evening. Those present were Misses Doreen Petherbridge, Lillian Braithwaite, Thelma Minto, Joan Chipper, Alice Chisholm, Alice Dawson and Anne McNeill. The next meeting will be held at Miss Anne McNeill's home, Tolmie Avenue.

Entertains at Barracks

NOT SO SHILY

A schoolmaster taking an infant's class in French asked a pupil to spell "Jaime—I love."

"J. apostrophe, A. I. M. E." said the child, "with a."

"With a what?" roared the master, knowing the boy was going to make the mistake was advising an acute, grave, or circumflex accent.

Pat as you please came the hasty reply: "With a dot on the 'I' sir!"

What Today Means

"LIBRA"

If October 22 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.; from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m.; and from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. The danger periods are from 7:30 to 9:30 a.m.; from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m.; and from 9:30 to 11:30 p.m. Be prepared to let nothing startling scare you this day. By investigating you probably will discover that nearly every fear has no foundations. Bizarre movements may arouse unpleasant suspicion, so avoid tiptoeing or moving in a noiseless manner. This is a good day to direct your business and social conversations along impersonal lines. For the average person is apt to be adverse to discussing personal affairs. There may be a strong desire for privacy, especially among intellectual people. Poor lighting perhaps, will be responsible for any depressed feeling you might have. Slips of memory. In all likelihood, will be due to a propensity to day-dream, or to complete absorption in the making of plans. Married and engaged couples, and those with a deep sentimental attachment, must refrain from flaily contradicting anything said, unless they have ample proof that they are justified in doing so. If a woman and October 22 is your birthday, be careful not to get into the habit of being abrupt. Develop your sympathetic and affectionate nature. You seem due to accumulate a wealth of knowledge or money, and attain an enviable social position. You might find people slightly older than yourself more congenial than those who are of your own age. Poetry, music, art, literature, educational or social welfare work, as well as the stage, may provide you with a line of activity that will bring you renown and happiness. You may be able to attribute most of your good fortune to a wise selection of a husband. The child born on October 22, probably will be a home-loving youngster. Children born on this date must be encouraged to make friends, and to take an active interest in sports and games. If a man and October 22 is your natal day, whatever talent you have is apt to be recognized and used advantageously. As a physician, actor, scientist, office manager, salesman, journalist, author, artist or contact man you should easily climb the ladder of success.

TERRORIZES VILLAGE

MONTREAL, Oct. 21 (AP).—Capture of a mentally-unbalanced farmer, who for several hours had terrorized the little Vercheres County village of Contrecoeur with shotgun and rifle, was described by Colonel Redmond-Roché, assistant commissioner of the Quebec Provincial Police.

Short Story Contest Rules Are Announced

Those interested in the short story contest sponsored by the Victoria and Islands Branch of the Canadian Authors' Association are reminded that all stories must be in the mails by October 31. Contestants must be sixteen to twenty-one years of age, three years' resident on Vancouver Island and stories to be 1,200 to 1,800 words in length and signed by the writer's non-de-plume. A sealed envelope containing the name of the story, non-de-plume and name and address of writer must accompany the story submitted, also return postage. Address manuscripts and queries to the secretary, Mrs. R. Breach, 1204 Hewlett Place, Victoria, C. 0949.

SOUTH PARK WINS SIR EDWARD BEATTY TROPHY

GRADE SCHOOL TEAM TAKES MAJOR AWARD AT SWIMMING MEET

Compiles Twenty-One Points at School Children's Gala at Crystal Garden—Oak Bay High School Second—Pendray Cup Goes to Monterey—South Park Wins Legion Trophy

The first grade school ever to win the Sir Edward Beatty Trophy, offered to the holder of the greatest aggregate score in the annual inter-school swimming gala at the Crystal Garden, a speedy contingent of South Park students last night rolled up a total of twenty-one points to nose out Oak Bay High School by a slim margin.

Opening the gala with a clean win by Alfred Armitage in the boys under ten class, the South Park squad marched steadily through the various competitions, chalking up four first places, four seconds and three thirds. The Oak Bay High School boys, while turning in a flashy performance, dropped enough points by sporadic efforts to give the grade schoolers a one-point lead in the final count.

TWO SECONDS

In the second and third event heats, the South Parkers drew down two seconds when Ina Salmon and Jimmie Ranson placed close behind Joan Morgan, of Margaret Jenkins, and Francis Troup, of the Willows.

In the fourth event heat, Peggy Cooke, of Central Junior High, triumphed over another South Park entry, Thelma Whyte, by a narrow margin.

In the finals of the third, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh events, which consisted of fifty-yard free style sprints for boys and girls, the South Park squad came through again with three more second places.

In the race for boys under twelve, little Jimmie Ranson placed second to Francis Troup, of Willows. In the same race for girls, Olive Mair finished in next spot behind Margaret Brachan, of Monterey. Young Derrick Cosby churned down the tank to win second-place honors in the race for boys under fourteen, which was taken by Donald Woodhouse, of Willows.

FOURTH VICTORY

South Park School scored their fourth, clean victory in the eight-width girls' relay race when they beat out squads from Margaret Jenkins and Monterey, and in the finals of the 300-yard relay for boys, which was the feature race of the evening, they were awarded the Britannia Branch Cup by L. G. Scott, president of the Canadian Legion Branch.

Although the Oak Bay High School squad finished first in the final, they were barred from claiming the trophy because some of their swimmers were over the age limit set by the Legion.

In the girls' 200-yard relay race for students in grades seven to nine, Monterey School won the coveted Pendray Cup when squads from Central Junior High and Oak Bay were disqualified because of over age.

OTTAWA PLAYS ARGONAUTS IN GRID CLASSIC

Canadian Rugby Squads Clash Today at Varsity Stadium

TORONTO, Oct. 21 (P.)—Opening a two-game series which will decide the final standing of the Inter-Provincial Football Union, Toronto Argonauts and Ottawa Rough Riders are expected to draw 20,000 fans to Varsity Stadium here, tomorrow, for a renewal of the bitter rivalry that has marked their play since 1936.

Also meeting for the first time, Huddy Foster's Montreal Nation and Toronto Balmy Beach will decide second place in the O.P.U. before a sell-out crowd at Alexander Park in Montreal. Burly Johnny Ferraro, enjoying his best season since he coached Hamilton Tigers to the Eastern championship in 1935, will lead the National offensive against a strengthened Beach team, which split its first two games.

While the feature games are being played, Samia Imperials should consolidate their position atop the O.R.F.U. against Peterborough Orfuns at Peterborough, and Montreal Cubs and Hamilton Tigers will decide the big four cellar in a game at Hamilton.

The intercollegiate champions, Queen's, move against the unbeaten McGill Redmen at Montreal, favorites to hand the Tricolor a third straight defeat. With both weakened through injuries, University of Toronto meets University of Western Ontario at London. Toronto will be without Doug Turner and Jim MacDonald, while Western have lost services of Jim McLaughlin and Jack Kennedy.

BOMBERS READY
WINNIPEG, Oct. 21 (P.)—Winnipeg Blue Bombers, slightly battered after their victory over Regina last Saturday, today wound up practices for the battle here tomorrow with the Saskatchewan griders.

Bill Certeil and Eddie Kuschner, powerful arms of Winnipeg's Western Conference Rugby outfit, have recuperated from injuries suffered in last week's tussle at Regina, and Dr. Fred Abbot has forbidden Art Stevenson to take part in tomorrow's game. Stevenson's sore shoulder was injured again in Regina when he tackled after a run.

SCOTTISH LINE-UP
Canadian Scottish senior Rugby line-up for today's game with the J.B.A.A. will be as follows: Hamilton, Knight, DeMacedo, Brady, B. Martin, Field, Williams, Edmonds, Coomber, Draper, Holyer, Willard, Pellett, S. Martin and Warwick.

To See Action Tonight

HANK ROWE

ART CHAPMAN

Two members of the Victoria Dominos' starting line-up who will be on hand tonight at the High School gymnasium, when the local hoopmen oppose the Seattle All-Stars in their second inter-city game of the season. Steve Antonich, veteran hoopster and well known to Victoria fans, will be in charge of the Sound City cagers, and is bringing over the pick of the Seattle clubs. Dominos will be gunning for their fourth straight victory. To date they have defeated Northwestern Creamery, Fort Alberni and the University of British Columbia. Ramblers and Buckle Service Station, intermediate "A" boys' quintettes, meet in the opener at 7:45 o'clock. The feature game will start at 9 o'clock.

GOLF GREENKEEPERS NAME NEW OFFICERS

Members of the Victoria Golf Greenkeepers' Association, at their annual meeting, named the following officers: Honorary president, C. F. Todd; honorary vice-presidents, J. Graham-Graham, E. Shad-bolt, E. Todd; president, T. Thorpe; vice-presidents, C. Carnegie, Sr., F.

Ingram, H. W. Leggett; secretary-treasurer, H. C. Hartshorne. The greenkeepers expressed their thanks to the local merchants, members of the various golf clubs and the professionals, to whose generosity the success of their recruitment and banquet was so largely due.

RANGERS TAKE OVERTIME TILT

Defeat New York Americans in Exhibition Hockey At Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, Oct. 21 (P.)—Lester Patrick's Rangers scored a 2-1 overtime victory last night over Mervyn (Red) Dutton's Americans, as New York's two National Hockey League teams opened a six-game exhibition tour of Western Canada.

A capacity crowd of 5,000 at the Amphitheatre rink here saw a product of Winnipeg's corner rinks, Alex Shibley, rap home the winning goal on a solo dash at 6:53 in the overtime period.

Rangers counted the first goal in the second period when Neil Colville picked up Cecil Dillon's pass and beat Earl Robertson in the Americans' net. Johnny Sorrell tied it up at 12:24 of the third period, with the veteran Hooley Smith and Al Murray credited with assists.

The teams were at full strength when Shibley fired the winning goal from thirty feet out, but just as the puck hit the net, Dutch Hiller, of Rangers, and Tommy Anderson, of Americans, exchanged blows in a corner and a free-for-all broke out. Hiller and Anderson were given major penalties.

The teams move to Saskatoon for games Saturday and Tuesday. They play in Edmonton, October 27 and 28, and return here to close the exhibition tour with a game, October 31.

SAVING EXPENSES

For several days Macdougall had suffered agony with the toothache, and his wife asked him the inevitable question:

"Why don't you have them out?" Mac, between groans, replied:

"I'll cost a lot of silver tae hae 'em drawn, Maggie."

Maggie: "He'll no charge mair than five bob with gas?" Mac: "Five bob! Phone and ask him how much he'll charge just to loosen them—I've awfu' strong fingers!"

VICTORIA MAN DRAWS TICKET IN BIG SWEEP

Albert Larsen, Deckhand, Will Collect $2,187 for Non-Starter

Dame Fortune smiled on one Victoria citizen and two Up-Island residents yesterday, as the news flashed over the trans-Atlantic cables that the trio had picked a million-to-one shot and drawn tickets in the running of the famous Casarzewich Sweepstakes at Newmarket next Wednesday.

Only local holder of a lucky ticket to date, fifty-four-year-old Albert Larsen, ex-whaler and deckhand for a Victoria tugboat, company, took the news calmly when informed that his ticket JA 36278 under the nom de plume "Speak Easy" will net him $2,187. His horse, Holbein, has been listed as a non-starter, but the seaman will nevertheless collect $437 on his investment. Larsen has been a consistent purchaser of tickets for years.

Plans for the future were not worrying the lucky ticket holder yesterday. Housed from his sleep at his home by a telephone boy, Larsen calmly dressed, showed the cable to one of two friends, and went through his usual routine of work on the waterfront. He serves as a deckhand aboard the Island Tug & Barge vessel Storm King.

MAY TAKE TRIP

Close-mouthed about his plans for spending the prize money, Larsen's friends stated they believed the seaman was considering a trip home to visit his relations. Larsen is of Scandinavian descent.

Meanwhile, Up-Island in Cumberland, Mrs. R. Sutton was notified yesterday that she had drawn one of two lucky stubs on Contravert, a 15-to-1 shot. The Cumberland woman stands to win $150,000 if her steed crosses the finish line ahead of the field.

At Clayquot, B.C., another British Columbian, Gordon E. McInnes, drew a ticket on Loves Legend, a horse rated at 25-to-1 odds. He likewise may possibly collect the major money for the race.

English Cricketers Are Given Rousing Send-Off at London

Team, Captained by Walter Hammond, Embarks For South African Tour—Will Play Nineteen Matches—Five Test Events on Programme

LONDON, Oct. 21 (P.)—England's cricket team to tour South Africa during the Winter was given a rousing send-off by a crowd of enthusiasts here today. The fifteen players, captained by Walter Hammond, embarked on the liner Athlone Castle at Southampton.

The team will play nineteen matches, including five tests, on its trip through the Union, and, in Hammond's opinion, the side is the best England can muster. A. J. Holmes, popular Sussex captain, will manage the tour.

Only three players have opposed South Africa in test competition, but seven others have had experience against other cricketing dominions. The team includes six amateurs.

Yorkshire, champion county, provides four players. Kent three and Gloucestershire and Lancashire two each—Sussex, Essex, Worcestershire and Middlesex each have one.

THE TEAM
The team: W. R. Hammond and Goddard, Gloucestershire; N. W. D. Yardley, P. A. Gibb, Hutton and Verity, Yorkshire; B. H. Valentine, Ames and Wright, Kent; Paynter and Wilkinson, Lancashire; H. T. Bartlett, Sussex; K. Farnes, Essex; Perks, Worcestershire; Edrich, Middlesex.

Since competition between the two countries started in 1888, fifty-nine matches have been played, England winning twenty-eight. The Springboks triumphed in twelve matches and nineteen ended tied. Thirty-eight tests were played in South Africa, the home players winning eleven and losing nineteen. Remainder were drawn.

Yardley, Gibb, Bartlett, Perks and Wilkinson are new to international cricket, and Valentine has represented England against the West Indies. Remaining members have played against Australia, while Hammond, Verity and Ames have opposed South Africa at home and in the Union.

Bartlett is a hard-hitting left-hander, and Gibb, understudy to Ames, veteran wicket-keeper, is also a consistent batsman. Yardley, an all-rounder, showed particularly good form as a bowler during the Summer. The two young professionals, Perks and Wilkinson, won places on the team as clever bowlers. The former is a fast-medium trundler, and Wilkinson, in his first full season for Lancashire, took 136 wickets in county championship matches.

A first match is scheduled for November 8-9, when the Englishmen will oppose Western Province Country District at the Strand. Two tests each are carded for Johannesburg and Durban and the other tilt will be played at Capetown.

Rev. A. Whitehouse at Metropolitan—New Heating System Being Installed

A completely new heating system is being installed in Metropolitan United Church. Good results are anticipated from the scheme, which completely changes the air in the auditorium every twenty minutes. The contractors have progressed sufficiently to assure the trustees of adequate temperature in the church and schoolroom from now on and of completion shortly.

Rev. A. E. Whitehouse will preach tomorrow morning on "Christ and Human Personality," and in the evening the timely subject is "The Cries of Race and Clan."

The music for the day is as follows: Morning, anthem, "Magnify His Name" (Martin), offertory hymn, "Praise the Lord" (Jones); evening anthem, "Come at Times a Solitude" (Woodward); solo, "Hold Thou My Hand" (Briggs), H. L. Harmaworth.

On Monday evening at 6:15 Rev. J. W. Riddell, M.A., D.D., LL.D., until recently principal of Wesley College, Winnipeg, will address a supper meeting for men on "The Eldership of the United Church."

United Churchmen of the city will have supper at the Metropolitan Church on Monday at 6:15, preceding an address by Rev. J. H. Riddell, D.D., LL.D., Winnipeg, on "Eldership in the United Church of Canada."

Dr. Riddell has recently retired from the principalship of Wesley College, Winnipeg, and is making a speaking tour of Western Canada under the direction of the headquarters of the United Church in Toronto.

"The Law of Increase" Is Night Topic

Dr. R. Walter Callaway, New York, will speak at Victoria Truth Centre tomorrow morning on "The Power of Words." E. Durrant will sing "In the Garden of Tomorrow" (Deppen).

In the evening the subject will be "The Law of Increase." Fred Wright will sing "Out of the Deep" (Narks).

On Wednesday at 8 p.m. Dr. Callaway will commence a series of lessons in the fundamentals of truth, the subject of the first being "Understanding the Scriptures."

TO COMMENCE FOURTH WEEK
Rev. G. N. Nichols Lectures Sunday Night on "Mark of the Beast"

Rev. Gladwyn N. Nichols, commencing the fourth week of the Bible Prophecy Conference, will again conduct two meetings at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium, 1119 Government Street, on Sunday at 2:45 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Mr. Nichols' subject for the afternoon service will be "Israel's Groanings," answering the question: "What is Satan doing to God's children today? Is there victory for spirit, soul and body? A super-race upon the earth—who are they?"

In the evening the subject will be "The Mark of the Beast." "Is the mark of the beast in the world today? How may we know it? Positive identification!"

This message will be illustrated by graphic screen pictures. There will also be community singing and a cornet solo, "Hosanna" (Grainier), by Mr. Nichols.

Nightly services at 8 o'clock, except Saturday, with special musical recitals, will be held in the Burns auditorium, 1406 Douglas Street.

PROPHETIC TALKS ARE ILLUSTRATED
H. L. Hopkins to Lecture Sunday Evening on "The Undefined Period Before Daniel's Prophecy"

At Alex Hall, corner Burnside and Wascana Roads, tomorrow evening at 7:30, H. L. Hopkins will continue his prophetic talks, illustrated with colored chart.

The subject for tomorrow evening is "The Undefined Period Before Seventieth Week of Daniel's Prophecy," which includes many great world events that will change the map of Europe.

WILL DISCUSS CHURCH'S PLEA

"Church and Politics" Is Evening-Subject of Rev. J. L. W. McLean

Rev. J. Lewis W. McLean will preach the second sermon in a series, entitled "Putting the Church in Her Place," at the evening service at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church tomorrow.

The subjects to be dealt with are: "The church and politics," "Has the church any business to talk politics, to support political parties?" "Did Premier Heppburn of Ontario put the church in her place when he publicly termed Christian ministers 'hypocrites' and those of one of the large denominations 'parlor socialists'?" These questions, and others, will be raised and discussed in the light of New Testament teaching.

At the morning service Arnold W. Trevel will sing "Why Wait Until Tomorrow?" (Kenneth Angus). The choir will sing the anthem, "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say" (Mansfield). In the evening Mrs. A. W. Stokes will sing "God Will Take Care of You" (Hewitt), and the offering of the choir will be Handel's anthem, "Now on Land and Sea Descending."

The minister's morning subject is "Uncontrolled Power."

WILL BEGIN NEW LECTURE SERIES
N. Y. Cross to Speak Sunday Morning on "The Bible, Man's Word or God's?"

Under the caption "Kingdom Gospel," N. Y. Cross will speak on Sunday at 11 a.m. in the Institute Hall, 635 Fort Street, from the theme, "The Bible, Man's Word or God's?" Text, Hebrews 1:1.

He will answer the following questions: "What forms the basis of faith? Can we believe the Old Testament prophecies? Are present-day world events outlined in the Scriptures? Are Hitler and Mussolini doing the will of God?"

SOCIETY ALTERS MEETING NIGHT
The regular weekly meeting of the Victoria Theological Society has been changed to Wednesday evening. The subject for next week's discussion will be "Organization in Nature," showing the esoteric basis of the various kingdoms in Nature. The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in Room 204 Jones Building.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON
Tomorrow's lesson in the International series is "Day of Rest" (Exodus xx, 8-11; Luke xii, 10-17, with the golden text, "Remember the Sabbath day, to keep it holy" (Exodus xx, 8).

CHAPTER XXI

Bonnie and Bill Kennedy, a muscular young man with curly red hair, a pleasant face and easy smile, were talking when Lyle returned to Jeff's apartment. Leaving Bill with instructions, she went home with Bonnie. Twice during the night she called and Bill said that Jeff was still asleep.

It was the beginning of a week of sleeplessness, anxiety and of being with Jeff at every opportunity. But after a week he emerged from an unusually severe case of gripe weak and white.

Lyle left the store promptly with a bouquet of red roses in her hand. Bill had said over the phone that Jeff was sitting up today. For a week she had merely looked at him and each time she had been to see him he had been asleep.

Jeff, wearing a blue dressing gown, was sitting in the big chair in the living-room when Lyle came in and went to him and kissed his forehead.

"Hello, darling," smiling at him but thinking how bad he looked. . . . Bill grinned. "More flowers? I'll have to put these in a milk bottle!" He went to the kitchen with the flowers and Lyle pulled up a footstool and sat close to Jeff.

"How do you feel?" He smiled faintly and said, "My legs won't hold me up. I told Bill they would but they collapsed when I tried to stand up." His dark eyes were calm and tender. "You've been awfully well to me, Lyle."

"I love you." He said, "I don't remember much. Bill tells me I've been sick a week. He's great. And you know, I think I've seen him some place before. Can't remember where." And a little later he said, "This has done me up pretty badly, Lyle. The doctor said I ought to get away for a while."

where it's warm. Miami preferably. I'll probably lose my job anyway, and I could use the money in our joint account if you . . .

She opened her eyes wide and looked at him. He had not spent their money! And she told herself again that it had not been his spending that she cared about, but his guilty look and his refusal to tell her!

"Of course I don't mind, Jeff. Our money, didn't we say? It's just what you need—going to Miami."

He said, "I've been meaning to tell you this. I spent part of the money when I was out of work."

"That doesn't matter. You had to live."

"I'll probably lose my job," "You'll find another. You didn't like it there anyway. And, Jeff, I've a little money that will pay the doctor and Bill. You'll need everything in the bank to take you to Florida."

Stephen had told her to send the bills to him. She hated the lie she had told Jeff—about having money. But it was a lie to keep him happy. No matter what it cost her in pride, he had to go away happy. He had to get well.

He grinned. "You're wonderful, Lyle."

Four days later she turned to him in the station.

"You'll have a beautiful sunburn when you get back, Jeff. You look better already at the idea of going. Please don't forget to look up my mother. Good-bye, darling."

His kiss lingered. Standing still and straight, she watched him as he walked away through the gate, hoping he'd glance back once and throw a kiss or smile. But he did not glance back. Was he so eager to be going?

She felt his kiss still on her mouth when she came out of the station into the winter sunshine.

PULL PIE OUT OF OVEN WITH TRACTOR

WENATCHEE, Wash., Oct. 21 (AP)—One ton of apples, ten pounds of butter and 100 pounds of flour were mixed here yesterday and baked into the largest apple pie ever attempted—ten feet in diameter, weighing 2,300 pounds. It was pulled out of an oven by a tractor in the city park and dished out for consumption by spectators.

HALIFAX, Oct. 21 (AP)—The Nova Scotia Government will join in representations to Federal authorities for a national fuel policy, a Government statement said last night.
